SUDDEN TEST VOTE COMES IN COMMONS

MACLEAN GETS B.C. PLAN BACKED TO END DUPLICATION OF INCOME TAX MACHINERY

Minister of Finance, Home From Conference of Premiers at Ottawa, Forecasts Co-operation Between Dominion and Provinces in Collecting and Auditing Yearly Returns; Efforts to Adjust Succession Duties Difficulties Between Provinces Not Successful

Co-operation between the Dominion and Provincial Governments in the collection and auditing of income tax returns, now involving costly duplication of organization, will likely be a reality in the near future, according to the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, who returned to the Parliament Buildings today after attending the Inter-provincial Conference at Ottawa.

The proposal for eliminating the duplication in the income tax overhead was sponsored by British Columbia and was put before the conference by Dr. MacLean. It was supported by Manitoba and Prince Edward Island and passed the conference unanimously.

The resolution was later presented to members of the Dominion Government and the possibilities of securing such co-operation appear bright, Dr. MacLean said. "It looks as if we were going to get action, as every minister, we spoke to, was favorably inclined towards it. After the session they will have time to get down to working out a plan."

All provinces except Alberta were represented at the conference and all Premiers were present except those of Alberta, Manitoba and British Columbia, the last two being represented by the attorney-general and minister of finance respectively, Dr. MacLean said.

The conference was in session for three days. Premier Ferguson of Ontario presided.

MARITIMES WANT AID
The first question discussed was the matter of an increase of subsidies to the provinces from the Dominion. Dr. MacLean explained, "This matter was raised by the representative of the Maritimes. These provinces claimed that, owing to their lack of natural resources and to the fact that their geographical position with regard to the markets in the central provinces of Ontario and Quebec prevented them from getting the full benefit of Confederation, a special allowance should be made to them by the Dominion."

"B.C. and the other Western Provinces took the position that, while they also were suffering from disabilities such as high freight and express rates, the time was not opportune to seek an amendment to the British North America Act, providing for a readjustment of subsidies, until such time as the finances of the Dominion were in a more flourishing condition. Quebec and Ontario were not inclined to ask for any modification of the existing terms of Union."

"This discussion resulted in a resolution urging the Federal Government favorably to consider, at an early date, the affording of relief to each of the Provinces based on their peculiar requirements."

SUCCESSION DUTIES CHANGES NOT FAVORED
After considerable discussion the proposals on this subject of succession duties resulted in a difference of opinion as to whether the principle of double taxation should be avoided by:

(a) A general Act based on certain principles which could be applied to each and every Province of the Dominion;

(b) A series of agreements between the various provinces with a view to eliminating the objectionable features of the "present situation."

"Here again the Western Provinces supported a general Act but the Central Provinces would not agree to this proposal. The present condition favors the position of the Eastern Provinces financially, and the anticipated loss of revenue on their part which such an Act would produce."

SITES FOR BREWERY VISITED BY OWNERS

Rainier Company Has Not Decided on Vancouver False Creek Area

Vancouver, June 15.—Final decision has not been reached whether the Rainier Brewing Company will build its new plant on Terminal Avenue here, will take a less prominent site in the city's False Creek industrial area, or will build elsewhere in the city.

"We are not hurrying about moving our plant from Kamloops, and are looking at a dozen different sites in Vancouver," said R. Fiddes, head of the company, to-day.

Mr. Fiddes took exception to a report in a morning paper that a change in location was under consideration as the result of the drive of the prohibition forces.

"We are not now finally committed to locating on any particular site, and it will probably be some time before a final selection is made," he said.

ASKS ALBERTA TO APPROVE HIS WORK; PREMIER BROWNLEE

MANY CANDIDATES ENTER FIELD AS ALBERTA PREPARES TO VOTE

Calgary, June 15.—As the official nominations, set for June 18, draw near, each day sees the quota of candidates in the Alberta provincial general election enlarged. A three-cornered fight in each constituency of the rural sections and a general free-for-all fight in the cities seem assured. June 28 will be polling day.

In Edmonton City alone there are eighteen candidates, including Hon. J. E. Limbun, the recently appointed Attorney-General, while to date party nominations in Calgary City have brought out nine candidates.

To-day approximately 180 candidates have been nominated at party conventions, Liberals numbering fifty-six, the Conservatives fifty-nine and the United Farmers of Alberta forty-four. Eleven Labor candidates have been nominated.

On the basis of present indications, it is estimated there will be close to 300 candidates, officially nominated next Friday.

Women are taking an active part in the campaign. Hon. Irene Parilly, Minister without portfolio, is again a candidate in Lacombe, while Mrs. Nettie McClure is asking election as a Liberal representative in Calgary.

The platform of the Liberal leader, Capt. J. T. Shaw, contains fourteen planks, including a policy of increased financial aid in educational matters, development of the natural resources when given by Ottawa to a view of securing cheap power for industrial and agricultural purposes and redistribution.

The platform calls for "equality in politics" for women and the adoption of old age pensions in co-operation with the Federal Government.

NEW LEADERS
A novel feature of the present new campaign is that all three parties entered the fight under new leaders. Hon. J. E. Brownlee, the present Premier, was not a candidate in the last election. He entered the Cabinet by means of a by-election in Ponoka after his appointment as Attorney-General at a Calgary meeting of successful United Farmer candidates, following the Liberal defeat in 1921. It was at the same meeting that Hon. Herbert Greenleaf, deposed as Premier in 1925, was selected.

Vancouver Child Lost Her Life

Vancouver, June 15.—Juanita Wrenn, three years old, died in a hospital here this afternoon as the result of injuries received a few hours before when she was struck by an automobile driven by L. D. Toombs while playing on the street. Police are investigating the accident.

ICE CREAM MERGER IN TERMINAL CITY

Six Creamery and Cold Storage Companies of Vancouver Amalgamate

Vancouver, June 15.—One of the largest Vancouver commercial deals of the year has been announced by the consolidation of six ice cream companies into one, following completion of negotiations for a merger of local cold storage, ice cream and creamery plants. The new consolidated firm, known as the Porto-Van Ice Cream Company, is composed of Almond Limited, Fraser Valley Dairies Limited, the Sherwood Creameries Limited, the New Westminster Ice and Cream Company, the Crescent Ice Cream Company Limited and the Arctic Ice Cream Company.

Negotiations leading up to amalgamation were up in progress several weeks.

It is possible the report will recommend action to recover the excise tax of about $9 a gallon on the many thousands of gallons of liquor which have been shipped through Walker, Fraser and neighboring border towns ostensibly to Mexico by way of river steamers.

After analyzing the evidence, the committee will make recommendations for the prevention of smuggling. On these findings of all nine members of the committee probably will be unanimous.

ASKS CITIZENS TO KEEP DATES OPEN FOR AUGUST FAIR

With plans made for another exhibition that will appeal to every citizen, W. H. Mearns, secretary of the B.C. Agricultural Association, makes an appeal for generous co-operation to make this year's fair at the Willows an unqualified success. He asks that organizations take note of the date of the exhibition, August 16 to August 21, and as far as possible refrain from arranging picnics or other events during those days, so that no counter attractions will injure the attendance at the exhibition.

FRENCH FINANCIAL CRISIS LEADS TO DOWNFALL OF BRIAND CABINET

Paris, June 15.—Aristide Briand's ninth Cabinet has ended its career. The Ministry's resignation was placed in the hands of President Doumergue at 7 o'clock this evening.

A communique stated the members of the Cabinet were unanimous in their decision.

The Ministers, after examining the situation caused by the resignation of Finance Minister Peret this morning, decided it was best to give President Doumergue full liberty of action.

The franc, which went as low as 36.89 to the dollar during this afternoon, closed on the Bourse at 35.64. It closed at 35.49 yesterday.

RESIGNED TO-DAY; PREMIER BRIAND

CO-OPERATION TO CHECK SMUGGLING

Commons Committee Will Make Recommendations For Canadian-U.S. Measures

Report to House is Expected to be Ready To-morrow or Thursday

Ottawa, June 15.—Closer co-operation between the Canadian and United States Governments to tighten up and enforce more strictly the provisions of the anti-smuggling treaty of 1925 probably will be one of the recommendations of the Commons customs inquiry committee when its report is presented this week. The report will be ready to-morrow or Thursday, according to present expectations.

The treaty, which arose out of the negotiations in Ottawa in 1924 between Canadian and United States government officials, should be observed in letter and spirit, some members of the customs committee feel, in order to prevent, or at least lessen, breaches of the laws of both countries.

A more effective system of notifying the customs officers of the other country will be recommended whenever potential contraband starts toward the boundary. It also may be recommended that a test be made of the right to export liquor to Mexico or Atlantic ports by way of lake and river ports in the interior of the continent, such as Walkerville, Ontario.

MAY COLLECT MONEY
It is possible the report will recommend action to recover the excise tax of about $9 a gallon on the many thousands of gallons of liquor which have been shipped through Walker, Fraser and neighboring border towns ostensibly to Mexico by way of river steamers.

After analyzing the evidence, the committee will make recommendations for the prevention of smuggling. On these findings of all nine members of the committee probably will be unanimous.

Assault and Robbery In Terminal City

Vancouver, June 15.—Brutally beating Joe Memo, seventy, the janitor, over the head with a piece of iron pipe, two thugs ransacked a small club at 61 Cordova Street West here about 6 o'clock this morning and took with them everything of value.

Slot machines on the premises were wrecked and the cash drawers looted of $8, it is said. The robbers also are said to have found the prizes for punchboards and appropriated a large quantity of valuable articles.

BRITISH MAN WAS KILLED BY CHINA BANDITS

Canton, June 15.—British gunboats have been dispatched to investigate the murder by bandits at Nanning yesterday of an Englishman by the name of Phillips, an employee of Asiatic Petroleum Company. Nanning is reported to be the scene of much banditry and robbery.

The resignation of Finance Minister Peret seemed to have little effect upon the exchange.

Just before bank closing time the franc slumped again to 36.04 to the dollar.

The normal exchange value of the franc used to be 123 cents, or 5.18 to the dollar.

The reasons for M. Peret's resignation, which preceded the Cabinet's, are considered in authoritative circles to have been twofold, namely, Premier Briand's refusal to enlarge the Ministry and make it a "national union cabinet" representing all parties, and secondly, the violent opposition against a project, attributed to M. Peret, which is regarded as disguised inflation. The project would recommend that all short-term bonds and the existing fiduciary circulation be deemed to form a whole—meaning that holders of short-term bonds in reimbursement would be paid in fresh issues of paper money.

REPORT DELAYED
The pessimism in the lobbies of Parliament over the latest slump of the franc has been increased by an announcement that the committee of experts would be unable to furnish its financial report before the beginning of July at the earliest.

EIGHT KILLED IN RIOT IN NORTH INDIA

Fights Resulted From Plan to Erect Movie Theatre Near Mosque

Simla, India, June 15.—Eight Moslems were killed and fourteen Moslems and nine Sikhs were injured in inter-communal riots which broke out in Rawalpindi last night, owing to the suggested erection of a motion picture theatre near a mosque. The grain market was destroyed and extensive looting was done in the side streets.

Military pickets were stationed throughout the towns and the situation to-day was well under control. The district magistrate prohibited the carrying of clubs or sticks and assemblies of more than five persons.

MUCH LIQUOR FOR CALIFORNIA'S JULY 4

Several Vessels Said to be Supplying 100,000 Cases For Holiday Season

San Francisco, June 15.—One hundred thousand cases of liquor are being smuggled towards California shores by rum runners stationed in "liquor lane," prohibition points, but to introduce liquor on a basis of a period of time. This would not prescribe longer hours, but would permit negotiation as might be necessary for the prospect of a far better scale of wages than that existing.

Mr. Baldwin said he had received positive assurances from the owners that on the basis of an eight-hour day in coal fields producing approximately half the country's output, the men could be offered continuance of the existing wages for August and September.

Over more than half the remainder of the country the reduction, if any, would be materially less than the ten per cent drop which was at present requested by the owners. The new wages could be guaranteed during July, August and September.

During this period the Government would proceed with reorganization legislation and the owners would take all possible steps to make effective each of the royal commission's proposals as might be necessary to leave no ground for doubt that the men would get all that was due them.

After a period of three months, the Premier continued, the wages would be based on the known proceeds of the industry, the wages for October to be based on July and August. It was reasonable to hope the wage rates would be maintained over a substantial portion of the industry if not actually increased. In any case, under the proposals already made by the owners the wages could not fall below the level of July 4.

ADDRESSES ROTARY LEADERS IN DENVER; GUY GUNDAKER

Among the speakers at to-day's session of the annual convention of the Rotary International in Denver, Colorado, was Guy Gundaker of Philadelphia, past international president, whose subject was "The Convention of 1927."

Delegates from 2,500 cities in thirty-five countries are attending the convention this week, the total being between 10,000 and 12,000.

LONGER COAL MINE HOURS IN BRITAIN

Baldwin Proposes Law Permitting Lengthening of Day to End Trouble

London, June 15.—The Government has been obliged to place abroad orders for maintenance of essential supplies of coal, Premier Baldwin said in opening the debate on the coal strike in the House of Commons to-day.

He would make no attempt, he said, to apportion the blame for the coal stoppage, a folly which must leave everyone worse off than in the beginning, but would address himself to finding a way of escape and a return to the common sense which alone would save the situation.

LONGER HOURS
The Government, he announced, had come quite definitely to the conclusion that a return to the longer working day was essential.

This was greeted by loud and angry cries of "no" from the opposition.

The Premier said he had been influenced in his decision first and foremost by the interests of the men. The Government proposed to leave the seven-hour law on the statute books, but to introduce legislation enabling an extra hour to be worked for a period of time. This would not prescribe longer hours, but would permit negotiation as might be necessary for the prospect of a far better scale of wages than that existing.

Mr. Baldwin said he had received positive assurances from the owners that on the basis of an eight-hour day in coal fields producing approximately half the country's output, the men could be offered continuance of the existing wages for August and September.

Over more than half the remainder of the country the reduction, if any, would be materially less than the ten per cent drop which was at present requested by the owners. The new wages could be guaranteed during July, August and September.

During this period the Government would proceed with reorganization legislation and the owners would take all possible steps to make effective each of the royal commission's proposals as might be necessary to leave no ground for doubt that the men would get all that was due them.

After a period of three months, the Premier continued, the wages would be based on the known proceeds of the industry, the wages for October to be based on July and August. It was reasonable to hope the wage rates would be maintained over a substantial portion of the industry if not actually increased. In any case, under the proposals already made by the owners the wages could not fall below the level of July 4.

ALBERTA ISSUE MADE SUBJECT OF M.P.'S VOTE

Commons Will Declare Its Estimate of Government's Course This Evening; F. Davis, Calgary Conservative, Asks the House to Declare No Confidence Because Agreement for Transfer of Natural Resources to Prairie Provinces Not Yet Reached

Ottawa, June 15 (Canadian Press).—A straight vote of non-confidence in the Government was moved in the House this afternoon by Fred Davis, Conservative, Calgary East, on a motion to go into committee of supply.

The subject chosen by Mr. Davis as the point of issue was the transfer of the natural resources of Alberta from federal to provincial control. As yet no agreement for the transfer has been reached by the two Governments.

The debate on the Davis motion is still in progress. Hurry-up calls are being sent to a few members out of town, and they are expected here in the early evening. As the debate progresses there is some uncertainty as to how Alberta Progressives will vote. Two have already indicated their intention to vote against the Government. These are Messrs. Lucas, Camrose, and A. M. Boutillier, Vegreville. Both voted with the Conservatives on the non-confidence motion moved at the opening of the session. On that occasion the Conservatives were supported by five Progressives. The non-confidence motion was then defeated by a majority of three.

It is expected a vote will be taken between 8 and 9 o'clock to-night.

DAVIS'S MOTION
Mr. Davis moved that "the Speaker do not now leave the chair, but that it be resolved that this House, because of failure to implement promises contained in the speech from the Throne and for other causes, has no confidence in the present Government."

The speech from the Throne, stated Mr. Davis, had promised legislation whereby the natural resources of Alberta would be transferred to that province. An agreement had been drafted for the carrying out of that promise between the Federal Government and the Government of Alberta. That agreement was not being put into effect by the Federal Government, he said. Alberta was entitled to the return of her natural resources as promised.

SECONDED BY QUINN
F. P. Quinn, Conservative, Halifax, in seconding the motion, stated he had no apology to make for his action.

Several members declared the motion was out of order, but Sir Henry D'Elton, Conservative, West York, Ontario, agreed the motion was in order. It was desired to discuss the failure of the Government to implement its pledges, its promises.

RULED IN ORDER
Speaker Lemieux ruled the amendment was in order, and asked the members not to discuss any question already on the order paper when discussing the amendment.

PREMIER SPOKE
Premier King informed the House the Government had been given no notice of the amendment. In motions such as this it was customary, he said, for the Leader of the Opposition to inform the Leader of the Government of what was going to take place. No notice having been given the Government, the Opposition was that the Opposition hoped, through the possible absence of members of some groups in the House, to score against the Government.

"If that is the motive of the Opposition, the sooner they score the better," declared the Prime Minister.

Mr. King pointed out that the end of the session had not yet been reached and that it was impossible for members of the Opposition to determine whether or not the Government would carry out the pledges made in the opening speech which the Government had not yet implemented by legislation.

TAX REDUCTION
The outstanding thing in the Speech from the Throne, after all, said Premier King, was the promise regarding taxation. He pointed out the tax reductions effected.

The Premier blamed the Opposition for prolonging the session.

"It has not been easy for the Government to carry on this session," he said, "but I will say that no other group in this House would have been able to carry on at all."

The motion under discussion was simply a motion of non-confidence. It made no specific charges against the Government. If it carried the Government would have to consider the next step to be taken.

Premier King added that "if this Government does not enjoy the confidence of this House, it will lose no time in asking for dissolution and for an appeal from this House to the country."

LUCAS'S VIEWS
W. T. Lucas, Progressive, Camrose, Alberta, followed. He was greeted with Conservative applause. He said he had intended to vote against the session was ended the question of "certain promises in the Speech from the Throne not being carried out."

Alberta members of every political stripe were vitally interested in the debate.

UNITED CHURCH TO HAVE NEW COLLEGE

Montreal, June 15.—Formation of the United Theological College of Montreal was approved by the General Council of the United Church of Canada this afternoon. The institution will absorb the former Wesleyan, Presbyterian and Congregational Colleges of Montreal.

After a period of three months, the Premier continued, the wages would be based on the known proceeds of the industry, the wages for October to be based on July and August. It was reasonable to hope the wage rates would be maintained over a substantial portion of the industry if not actually increased. In any case, under the proposals already made by the owners the wages could not fall below the level of July 4.

DRY SPELL FEARED AS B.C. FRUIT CROP MAY BE CUT DOWN

The wonderful fruit crop promised in the Okanagan this season, may be seriously cut down in size by water shortage, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, announced today on his return to the Parliament Buildings, after making a personal survey of the district and attending, with Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce, the conference of fruit growers at the Summerland experimental farm.

"The orchards of the Okanagan never looked better," Mr. Barrow said. "They got off to a good start early in the season, with everything shaping up for a large yield, but now there are indications that the interior may be shy of water which is needed from now on. If this dryness persists it will cut into the crop in a most serious way."

"Vagaries of nature, one thing or another, the farmer and fruit-grower is always up against something."

CITY HALL PRINCESS RETIRES TO BECOME PRETTY JUNE BRIDE

Mayor Pendray Officiates at Presentation Ceremony to Miss Joyce Wormald

The inside staff at the City Hall to-day loses one of its most popular members, Miss Joyce Wormald, of the office of the City Comptroller.

Mayor Pendray officiating at the ceremony this afternoon, when a case of Rogers' silver and an illuminated address is being presented to Miss Wormald on behalf of the employees of the city service.

For the last three years Miss Wormald has been one of the most popular members of the City Hall staff. She is to become the bride of Laverne Le Hoquet on June 26. As her resignation takes place today, the presentation ceremony is taking the form of a farewell gathering in her honor.

Miss Wormald for the last three years has been the City Hall princess and for two years has been chosen as the Victoria beauty to represent this city at the Bellingham Tulip Festival.

PARTY WILL INSPECT HYDRO-ELECTRIC DEVELOPMENT; WILL SEE HIGHEST DAM IN CANADA AT JORDAN RIVER

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-morrow will be guests of the B.C. Electric Company on an inspection of the Jordan River hydro-electric development when they will be given an appreciated opportunity for a detailed observation of the great powerhouse and dam.

An inspection of the highest dam in Canada over which the water dashes at the rate of nearly 5,000,000 gallons a minute is one of many items on a crowded day's programme.

The Jordan River dam is 125 feet high and 846 feet long, and impounds equivalent to 10,500,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy. The structure contains 23,000 yards of concrete and 450 tons of re-inforcing steel. The spillway is 900 feet long. The greatest volume of water so far discharged over the spillway was a depth of 5 feet 6 inches, or at the rate of 4,975,000 imperial gallons a minute.

The day's outing starts at 9 o'clock from the company's general offices at the corner of Fort and Langley Streets. Jordan River will be reached at 11:30 a.m.

On arrival the powerhouse with its equipment of two 6,000 h.p. and one 13,500 h.p. hydro-lectric units will be inspected. Lunch will then be served at the Jordan River Club.

The party will leave Jordan River at sea level, and in fifteen minutes will reach Forestry Reservoir at an elevation of 1,150 feet. They will travel by observation cars over the scenic railway on standard equipment to the Jordan River dam. They expect to reach the diversion dam at 2 o'clock and spend one hour there.

Florence Vidor Breaks Shell

By JACK JUNGMEYER

Florence Vidor's phenomenal and triumphant rise to screen heights in recent months, officially signalled by Paramount stardom, coincided with a profound emotional readjustment based on her personal domestic life. She has ceased being, in a romantic sense, the clinging vine.

As the wife of King Vidor, director, she had been a marked example of the clinging type, despite her own professional independence as a capable actress. But marital distress resulted in separation.

Florence began emerging from her shell in "The Trouble With Wives," which hinted at a playful buoyancy. She stepped out with a sparkle and a dash in "The Grand Duchess and the Waiter."

Audiences began to perk up and give eye to a new and positively alluring Vidor. They noted that she had bobbed her hair, and that she had broken her short tether of conventional roles.

Hollywood began to flutter about her with most flattering attention. Fan mail swelled to huge proportions. The gracious, but somewhat aloof orchid was transformed into a rose.

She will be seen next in "Sea Horses," and then in "Love Magic," written especially for her by the Hungarian playwright Vadja.

MRS. M. WINTERBOTTOM DIES AT RESIDENCE OF HER DAUGHTER

At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. R. Taylor, 1381 Monterey Avenue, this morning, there passed away Mrs. Margaret Winterbottom, aged seventy-four years, after a long illness. The late Mrs. Winterbottom was a native of Oldham, England, and had been a resident of Victoria for the last thirteen years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Taylor, and two sons, Samuel of Vancouver, and James of Ontario.

The funeral will be held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel on Thursday at 2:15 p.m. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The death occurred in Port Renfrew on Monday, June 14, of Capt. Randal Walker in his nineteenth year. Interment will be made at Port Renfrew to-morrow.

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, creamed dried beef on toast, radishes, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Melted cheese with rice, lettuce sandwiches, rhubarb sauce, plain cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Veal cutlets macaroni baked with tomatoes, new beets, strawberry salad, toasted crackers, Roquefort cheese, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

If no small children are to be served a ready-to-serve cereal is suggested for breakfast. Heat this cereal in the oven until it's as crisp and hot as can be.

You will like cool, scarlet radishes with your creamed dried beef. They should be chilled over night in water in the ice box.

STRAWBERRY SALAD.
One tablespoon granulated gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water, 1-2 cup boiling water, 1 cup ginger ale, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 lemon (juice), 1 cup strawberries, 1 banana, French dressing, lettuce.

Soften gelatine in cold water for ten minutes. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add ginger ale, sugar and lemon juice. When cool and beginning to jelly stir in strawberries, hulled, washed and cut in halves and the banana cut in thin slices. Turn into a mold and let stand on ice for several hours until thoroughly chilled and firm. Turn out into a bed of lettuce and serve with French dressing. Garnish with fine large berries.

Duncan

Special to The Times
Duncan, June 15.—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held on Friday afternoon in the League room, with an attendance of nearly forty. Five new members were enrolled. Word was received that the new minister will be in Duncan this week. The committee of management, consisting of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and Mrs. Peter Campbell and Mrs. R. H. Whidden, will arrange for his reception. After the usual business a delicious tea was served by Mrs. Curry, Gibbons, Road, Mrs. Baker, Someros, and Mrs. McIvor, Duncan.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING
C. F. Davis, M.P.P., occupied the chair at the annual general meeting of the Cowichan branch of the Conservative Association, which was held in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Duncan, on Friday evening. The principal business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—C. F. Davis.
First vice-president—H. W. Dickie.
Second vice-president—Mrs. H. A. Patterson.
Third vice-president—W. M. Dwyer.

Secretary—R. T. Barry.
Treasurer—W. L. B. Young.
Executive committee—Mrs. Finlay, Messrs. Hinton, Tooker, Frank, May, Averill, and Excell, Cowichan Station; Messrs. Hawkins and Simmonds, Crofton Road; Messrs. McColl, Lockwood and Douglas, Cowichan Lake; Messrs. Smith, Hills, Coates and Eveleigh, Someros; Messrs. McMillan and Bonnell, Westholme; Mrs. Hird, Anderson, Messrs. Young, Churchill, Pitt, R. Whittome, O. T. Smythe, L. Bonnell, E. Stock, Kyle, T. Forrest, R. Gray, Eastwood, Wentworth and G. Evans, Duncan.

PERSONALS
Mrs. Rees has arrived from England and is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Alder, Golden Road, Nanaimo. She will also visit her sister on Mayne Island before returning home to the Old Country.

W. B. Knight, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, Duncan, has been transferred to Vancouver, and leaves this week to take over his duties there.

Dr. Forrest Kerr, who has been here on a visit to his father, Dr. D. E. Kerr, left last week for Vancouver, en route to the Skeena River, in charge of a party under the Dominion Geological Survey Department.

PROHIBITIONISTS MAKE CAMPAIGN

Present B.C. Move Due to Brewers' Activities, Says Rev. R. J. McIntyre

Vancouver, June 15.—Prohibition forces of Vancouver did not begin their present agitation for a "bone dry" British Columbia, according to a statement made last night by Rev. R. J. McIntyre, president and organizer of the British Columbia Prohibition Association. The brewers had begun it, he said.

"Now, however, that the campaign is started," he added, "it will be carried through to a finish. Since government control of liquor came into force the Prohibition Association has carried on practically no agitation against the liquor traffic," Mr. McIntyre continued. "The brewing interests brought on the vote for beer parlors, and not content with what they had gained through a local option system, they are now endeavoring to have legalized the sale of beer in 'dry' territory. It is they who started the fight, and it is they who must take the blame. We have been forced into the field and we are going to stay until we make the province dry."

Toward the end of the month, he said, the movement would be extended to Victoria and Nanaimo. Mr. McIntyre will attend the British Columbia Baptist Convention in Victoria June 24, when he will outline the preliminary plans of the campaign.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION FOR MRS. PENN

She Escaped It by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Windsor, Ont.—"After the birth of my first baby I was very much run-down in health and the doctor said I must have an operation as I was suffering from a displacement. A friend wanted me to try my medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and I took it steadily for a year. During this time I was carrying my second baby and I felt real well all the time and did not have a hard confinement. I feel sure the Vegetable Compound did me a lot of good, and all my people do, too. One sister in Leamington, Ontario, takes it, and both sisters praise it as a good medicine. I am more than pleased with the result."—Mrs. W. PENN, Windsor, Ontario.

Mrs. Corbin Relieved from Pain Stewiacke, N.S.—"I had pains across my back and in my side for two years after my first baby was born. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read about it in the papers, so I tried it and the pains all left me. I have a family of three children now, and the medicine helped me during the months before they were born. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. CARY W. CORBIN, Main Street, Stewiacke, Nova Scotia.

(Adv.)

Mrs. W. P. Jaynes has returned from Vancouver, where she attended the King's Daughters' convention.

Mrs. W. H. Elkington and Mrs. J. H. Whittome have returned from the mainland, where they were delegates from the Scattered Circle, to the King's Daughters' convention.

Chemainus

Special to The Times
Chemainus, June 15.—Mrs. Edward Koch entertained at a very jolly little party at her home. Three tables of bridge were in progress. Mrs. Ray Clute carried off the prize. Mrs. Koch's guests included Mrs. Battreal, Mrs. Adam, Mrs. Laidlaw, Mrs. Jarrett, Mrs. Rivett-Carnes, Mr. Donald, Mrs. Clute, Mrs. McLauchlan, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Griesbach, Mrs. Craig, Miss Grace McInnes and Miss Doris Lawson.

R. H. H. Alexander of the B.C. Lumber and Shingle Manufacturing Company and Stewart M. Read, manager of The Western Lumberman Magazine were visitors to Chemainus recently.

D. Porteous, fire ranger of Duncan was around the district during last week.

Col. J. R. Hodges of Ottawa, examined the local first aid team last week in connection with the Wallace Nesbitt General and Montclair trophies for which they have entered. The members of the local team are L. Samann (captain), A. Stanier, A. E. Craig and J. A. Wynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Read motored to Victoria several times last week to see Mr. Read's mother who is a patient in the Jubilee Hospital having undergone an operation and who is now progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith have returned from Vancouver where they holidayed for a few days.

Mr. Ainsley Worthington spent the week-end in the Capital City.

Chemainus senior baseball team and supporters motored to Victoria on Saturday to play a return match with the Commercial Travelers at the Royal Athletic Park, and were beaten by one run, the score was 9 to 8.

On Saturday the new Community Tennis Courts opened for the season. Play continued all the afternoon and evening. Quite a goodly number of players being present.

Miss Gwen English of Vancouver was the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert English.

MAN KILLED IN STORM IN OHIO

Cleveland, Ohio, June 15.—Electrical storms and heat in Ohio, during the twenty-four hours ended last night caused one death and property damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

Frank Burnhart, forty-two, was electrocuted at Marietta when he came in contact with a wire that crossed a high tension line after a twenty-minute storm there.

Gun Restrictions Are Proposed

Ottawa, June 15 (Canadian Press).—The Belcourt bill, designed to impose further restrictions on the sale and possession of firearms other than hunting rifles, passed all stages in the Senate last night. It now goes to the House of Commons.

The Senate gave final reading to two government bills, the one changing the income tax rate and the exclusive bill which affects the sale of Canadian tobacco in foreign ports and reducing to $3 a thousand the excise on cigars put up in boxes of ten or less.

British Note to Russia Explained

London, June 15.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, was questioned in the House of Commons yesterday concerning the relations between Britain and Soviet Russia. He replied that a few days ago he had instructed the British charge d'affaires in Moscow to inform the Soviet Government that the British Government could not pass over in silence the action of the Soviet Commissariat of Finance in giving special authorization for the transfer to Britain of funds to support the general strike.

Answering a question from Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, the Foreign Secretary said the ground for his protest was that the stipulation of a law in force had been waived in order to permit the transmission of the money in support of an unconstitutional strike. His explanation confirmed what had been a growing belief that the original unofficial accounts of the transaction were exaggerated. The rather mild form of protest which the Foreign Secretary admitted having been made in his note to Russia did not, he instructed the Government itself of providing the money, but only complained of relaxation in favor of the British strikers of the money. However, it is understood the Government hardly expects Russia to reply to its protest.

Moscow, June 15.—The general committee to the Miners' Union transferred to the British Miners' Federation an additional 50,000 rubles (about $25,000). This money was collected among the co-operative unions.

Sunday School Decrease Reported

London, June 15 (Canadian Press).—Socialistic and Communistic Sunday schools were suggested as the cause of a decrease of 18,000 in attendance at Sunday schools, when this decrease was reported to the conference of the Primitive Methodist Church, sitting under the chairmanship of Rev. James Lockhart.

CARDINAL'S ARRIVAL WAS A SURPRISE

Archbishop of Munich Crossed Atlantic to United States Incognito

New York, June 15.—Clad in the shabby garb of a poor priest, a tourist cap and an overcoat green with age, "Professor B. Michaelis" arrived on the liner Albert Ballin yesterday to reveal himself to his surprised fellow travelers as Cardinal von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich.

Because of a desire to shun publicity, the German cardinal put away his robes of office and the ring which would have identified him and made the whole journey without anyone on the ship but his associates aware of his identity. He refused to respond to reporters' salutation of "Your Eminence," and became embarrassed when they persisted in questioning him.

Cardinal Faulhaber was greeted at the pier by a delegation of German priests. He went immediately to the home of the Rev. Father Kunig in Brooklyn, where he will remain until he leaves for the Eucharistic Congress in Chicago.

REPORTS ENDED
His arrival put an end to reports he had landed last Thursday and was unable to participate in ceremonies on Sunday because of illness. At various times he had been reported as being the guest of Father Kunig and Cardinal Hayes, who, respecting the visiting cardinal's request for privacy, ordered no word be given out relative to his plans.

Joseph Breen, publicity representative of the Eucharistic Congress, headquarters, said the cardinal's desire to travel incognito had been prompted by the fact that the cardinal had been embarrassed by being "misquoted" by some of the newspapers on the occasion of his sailing abroad after his visit here two years ago. Mr. Breen said the report relative to the cardinal's arrival had resulted from misinformation relayed by Monsignor Kempe of Chicago, who had come to New York to act as aide de camp to the German cardinal. Even the clerics supposedly in "close" contact with the arrangements were at a loss as to his whereabouts.

CARDINALS WELCOMED
The eight foreign cardinals now in New York and their retinues received the formal welcome of the state and city when they met Governor Smith and Mayor Walker at the City Hall at noon today. The ceremony was broadcast through station WNYC. Cardinal Enrico Reus Y Casanova, Archbishop of Toledo, and his suite, were tendered a luncheon at the Lotos Club yesterday by Thomas J. O'Reilly. Among the guests were half a dozen Roman Catholic clergy on their way with Cardinal Casanova to the Eucharistic Congress in Chicago and a large number of prominent United States journalists and laymen.

Mrs. Russell Scott Is Not Allowed To Starve Herself

Chicago, June 15.—The police yesterday stopped Mrs. Russell Scott from appearing in a continuous "starvation show" to raise funds to save her husband from hanging. The police invoked a law forbidding the exhibition of direct or indirect results of crime. An officer went to the theatre at the time Mrs. Scott was scheduled to enter the glass cage to begin a fast to save her husband from hanging.

Theatrical officials took steps to restrain police interference with the affair when they filed suit for an injunction prohibiting police interference.

Labor Branch Estimates Given M.P.'s Approval

Ottawa, June 15 (Canadian Press).—Estimates of the Department of Labor totaling $1,396,000 were passed by the House of Commons last night. The votes included $5,000 for the Annuities Act, $50,000 for the Combines Investigation Act, $35,000 for the Conciliation Act, $35,000 for the employment offices, $30,000 for the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, $50,000 for fair wage inspection, $10,000 for the International Labor Conference and $6,000 miscellaneous.

Canadian M.P.'s To Visit Australia

Ottawa, June 15.—Canada will send a parliamentary delegation to the annual meeting of the British Empire Parliament Association, which is to meet this summer in Australia. It is announced here. The delegation selected from the House will consist of E. A. Lapierre, Nipissing, Ont.; Dr. J. J. Guerin, St. Ann's division, Montreal; John Evans, Saskatoon; Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross, Kingston, and E. MacNutt, Colchester, N.S. Representatives from the Senate will be Senator Casgrain, Montreal; Senator Schaffner, Manitoba; and Senator Robinson, New Brunswick. The party will leave Ottawa next month and will be away about three months.

Australian Changes In Laws Opposed

Melbourne, June 15 (Canadian Press Cable, Via Reuters).—A meeting of 300 business men here adopted a resolution strongly condemning the Commonwealth Government's proposal to authorize a referendum on the alteration of the constitution of Australia. The alterations, if approved, would confer on the Commonwealth stricter control of the hours and conditions of employment, and also over trusts and combines. Hon. J. Allen, Premier of the State of Victoria, in a public utterance today regarding the proposed constitutional alterations, declared they would be the beginning of the end of state parliaments if they should be carried.

MOVIE LEADERS AT LAKE LOUISE

Lake Louise, Alta., June 15.—To investigate the motion picture possibilities of the Canadian Pacific Rockies, members of the Motion Picture Owners of America, numbering seventy-five, are spending two days at the Chateau Lake Louise, en route from their seventh annual convention at Los Angeles.

Included in the party are three national directors of the organization, Frank Koch of Rochester, N.Y.; John A. Schalm, and M. Rosenbloom of Pittsburgh, vice-president of the Motion Picture Owners of America. Asked for their verdict on the Northern Rockies from a scenic standpoint, P. J. Wood of Columbus, Ohio, business manager of the organization, said: "After the Lord looked all over the world, He chose Lake Louise at which to place His most beautiful spot. That sums up our investigation."

Other prominent officials of the party who control the film world of America are H. M. Ritchie of Detroit, manager; C. F. Krebs, Louisville, Ky., secretary, and Fred Harrington.

"Lights, Camera, Shoot," that was the official yell of the party at their evening ball in the Chateau. One of the features of the ballroom entertainment was an exhibition of the Charleston by Miss Helen Nisius of Detroit.

The United States owns approximately 30,000,000 acres of coal lands with estimated coal deposits of more than 200,000,000,000 tons.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Ant's Airship

Copyright, 1926, by McClure News-Paper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping out of his hollow stump bungalow, wondering where he could go to have an adventure, all of a sudden he saw a leaf blowing around in the air near his chimney. "That's an old, dried leaf," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "The high wind is blowing it and giving it a ride." But, as he was about to hop away, it seemed to Mr. Longears that he heard a voice calling:

"Help! Save me! Help me to get down! Oh! Save me and my family." "Dear me," said Uncle Wiggily to himself as he twinkled his pink nose, "I didn't know it was impossible. I would say that leaf was calling to me. But a leaf doesn't need to be saved, and it has no family. I must be listening to a radio, I guess."

So the rabbit gentleman hopped along to seek an adventure, but again he thought he heard a voice saying: "Help me! Save me! Help me to get down off this airship!" "I guess I'd better go see Dr. Possum," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I am hearing voices in the air!" And as he hopped away he met Mr. Twistytail, the gentleman pig. "Listen, Mr. Twistytail," said the bunny, "and tell me if you can hear a voice calling for help."

So the pig listened and then came that same voice again. "Yes, I hear some one calling for help," grunted Mr. Twistytail, "but I only see an old, dried leaf scurrying in the air. That can't want help. It must be a radio."

"That's what I think!" said the rabbit gentleman, and he was about to hop along when, all of a sudden, a teeny, weeny voice at his feet exclaimed:

"Oh! Uncle Wiggily, please save my daddy and my mamma and my little sisters and brothers!" and down on the ground crawled a little red ant boy.

"Why, my dear little fellow!" said Uncle Wiggily, "where are the ones you want me to save? Where is your daddy and your mother?"

"Up on that airship!" cried the little ant boy, and he pointed one leg at the swirling, brown leaf.

"Airship!" grunted Mr. Twistytail. "Do you call that an airship?" "It's an ant's airship," answered the little fellow. "Oh, please get daddy and mamma down!" he begged.

"How did they get up there?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he looked at the leaf which was blown first one way and then the other by the wind, but it did not seem to come down toward the earth. "What are they doing up there so high?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Listen, Mr. Twistytail," said the bunny.

"Oh, it's one of daddy's tricks!" said the little ant boy. "He always wanted to go airship riding, but my mother laughed at him, saying he never could make an aeroplane. But my daddy said he'd show her, so he got this old brown leaf, and he said would make a good airship, and then he said we should all take a ride. So he waited until the wind was blowing hard, and then we all got on this airship and daddy gave it a push and a shove off the ground and the wind carried it up with mamma and my brothers and sister and reached up with the rake you could pull the ant's airship down."

"How is it you aren't up there with them?" asked Mr. Twistytail.

"Oh, I fell off just as the leaf airship started," said the little boy ant. "And then, when I saw that daddy couldn't steer the leaf down, and when I heard him hollering for help, I ran to find you, Uncle Wiggily! You'll help daddy down, won't you?"

"I'll do my best!" promised the rabbit gentleman. Then it was voices, after all, that we heard in the air, and not radio," he said to the pig gentleman.

"Yes," grunted Mr. Twistytail. "And I think if you stood on your roof and reached up with the rake you could pull that ant's airship down, and we could spread a blanket on the roof so they would have something soft to fall on."

So Uncle Wiggily pulled the leaf airship down with the rake and the ant family, falling on the blanket, weren't hurt at all. Mrs. ant said she was never going airshipping again, and I wouldn't either. But the ants were given some sugar pudding by Nurse Jane and went home happy. And if the ash can doesn't jump over the back fence to play rubber ball with the mud turtle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the rolling stone.

Menonites to Consider Fate of Bobbed Hair Ban

Watertown, N.Y., June 15.—Bobbed hair came to the fore to-day as a topic for discussion at the international conference at Kirchnerville of the Menonites, a religious sect.

Commenting on demands of the younger generation for more liberty in dress, one minister declared that if bobbed hair is proven not a worldly idea to the satisfaction of the elders, opposition to the fashion, now officially banned, would be withdrawn.

LIGHT FOOTWEAR

Snakekin shoes are quite the rage, particularly in tan and grey. Lizard and alligator are also brought out in these delicate tones.

BLACK VELVET

Velvet plays a prominent part in the midsummer mode. The velvet coat and the small velvet hat are the smartest things you can wear. Black is, of course, the proper color.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CONSTIPATION

To Mrs. H. B. H.
There are many reasons why a baby might be constipated that it is one of the trickiest ailments to advise upon. You have given me not a single clue to the underlying reason in the case of your baby. He is an excellent weight for his age and so under-nourishment would not seem to be the cause; and he is not so overweight that one would suspect too rich a breast milk. It seems to be just a condition of sluggish muscles, as you say the stool is in no way constipated when the baby's bowels do move.

It would be best to stimulate a natural movement every day, mechanically, by the use of a soap or glycerine suppository and encourage regular bowel movements. Use the suppository at a regular hour every day, and in a week's time it is more than possible that the baby will not need to be put on the stool in order to have an evacuation without resort to the suppository. This is better than giving laxative medicines, though orange juice may be given, as the baby does not seem to need a laxative so much as he needs regulating.

SOCIAL PERSONAL WOMEN'S AFFAIRS AND CLUB NEWS

WOMEN'S COUNCIL PRESIDENT TO SPEAK HERE ON LEAGUE

Mrs. J. A. Wilson of Ottawa to Address Public Meeting Saturday

Mrs. J. A. Wilson, of Ottawa, the newly-elected president of the National Council of Women, will arrive in Victoria on Friday and on Saturday evening will speak at a public meeting at the Memorial Hall under the auspices of the local branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada.

Mrs. Wilson is a native daughter of Tuzo, one of the city's pioneers. She is a member of the Dominion executive of the League of Nations Society and is fully conversant with the work of the League, and her address on Saturday evening will deal with the humanitarian phase of the League's activities.

A gifted speaker, Mrs. Wilson has addressed numerous gatherings since coming west to attend the National Council of Women's annual sessions, and on Sunday evening she spoke before a large congregation in the Canadian Memorial Church in Vancouver on "The League and Its Message."

It is anticipated that the public will avail themselves in large numbers of the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Wilson speak on Saturday evening.

Esquimalt I.O.D.E. Gives Donation to Friendly Help

The Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E. met yesterday afternoon at "Chevelly," the residence of Lady Barnard, the regent, Mrs. C. P. Hill, presiding.

A report of the stall of home-cooking held in Spencer's basement was given by the convener, Mrs. Booth, who announced that $23.55 had been raised. This sum the members decided to give to the Esquimalt Friendly Help Society as a donation to their funds. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Booth for her work, and also to Mrs. Jones, who had collected the contributions with her car. Mrs. Booth was also appointed convener of the home-cooking stall which has been undertaken by the Esquimalt chapter at the Navy League garden party on Saturday, June 19, and of the home-cooking at the country fair to be held in connection with the Esquimalt War Memorial in September.

Mrs. Hill reported on the collection taken among the members towards the gift to Lady Byng from the women of Canada.

A further subscription of $5 was voted towards the expenses of the delegate to the annual national meeting.

At the regent's suggestion it was decided that members should bring in "talent money" at the meeting to be held in September, each to use her special talent for the benefit of the chapter's funds. Mrs. Hill's invitation to hold the meeting, which will be on the Tuesday following Labor Day at "Hillhaven," was accepted with pleasure.

After the business meeting the members were entertained by the hostesses, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Booth and the guests greatly enjoyed the display of beautiful flowers which the gardens offered. The reception rooms were charmingly decorated with a variety of blooms, shading from brilliant petunia hues to palest pink.

FLANNEL DANCE AT UPLANDS CLUB

A flannel dance will be held at the Uplands Golf Club on Saturday evening, June 19, for members and their friends. This is the first affair of the sort held in the new club house and should be most popular. Prof. Zala has charge of the music. Tickets may be obtained from J. S. Caven, secretary of the club.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

CONSTIPATION

To Mrs. H. B. H.
It is not uncommon for milk to remain in the mother's breasts for some months after weaning the baby. If you do nothing about it and do not in any stimulate a further supply by trying to express it, it should give you no trouble. Coffee is never a milk maker, though any liquid, even water, has a slight tendency to increase the supply. It is possible that all you need to do at this period is to forget it.

TO READERS:
We want to answer your letters and requests for leaflets as speedily as possible, but sometimes it happens that we are temporarily out of the leaflets asked for and letters have to be held until a new supply is printed. Please don't write a letter in two or three days, or even a week, complaining of a failure to receive an answer. If your letter has contained a self-addressed and stamped envelope you will receive your answer with as little delay as possible. We are much more anxious to give you this service than you are to have it, and, of course, letters can be lost, but give us more than just a few days before becoming impatient. At our end sometimes it would seem that all the world wants leaflets, and they disappear like snow in the sun.

Mrs. H. H. Parsons, Toronto read the report of the committee on press and resolutions on the publication of the Year Book were discussed and agreed upon.

The Local Association of Girl Guides at their meeting yesterday afternoon heard a report of the garden fete held at Government House, which had proved a very great success socially and financially. A very hearty vote of thanks was given to the convener, Mrs. L. A. Genge, who in her turn thanked all who had helped towards such a splendid result.

Heartiest congratulations were also proffered to Miss Leighton, district captain, on the remarkably fine performance of the Guides in the match race, and a ceremonial display.

Announcement was made of the visit of Mrs. Rosseter of Toronto, the only Eagle Owl in Canada, who will be in Victoria from June 26 to July 1, inclusive, for the purpose of holding a school of tuition on Guiding, with special reference to Brownie work. These sessions will be free and all who are interested in the work will be welcome.

Miss Barton has kindly offered to allow the course to be held at St. Margaret's School, Miss Leighton will be glad to receive the names of those desiring to attend either the full course or individual demonstration.

Prairie Synod Against Women Churchwardens
Saskatoon, June 15.—By a substantial vote the Anglican Synod of Saskatchewan, in session here, rejected a proposal to allow women to take office as church wardens. The delegates declared themselves not opposed to allowing women to enter the vestry, provided their number was less than half of the vestry.

Suede has returned to popularity for footwear, particularly for the Oxford, that is, the shoe with the ankle strap.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mrs. D. W. Doppy, Lee Avenue, in honor of Mrs. D. ### COUNCIL WOMEN DISCUSS BUDGET

Finances Dealt With at Private Session in Vancouver

Vancouver, June 15 (Canadian Press)—The annual budget, its scope of assessment for the Local Councils, and further matters dealing with the finance committee, occupied the entire morning session to-day of the National Council of Women conference. The meeting was of a private nature and it was agreed that the council should adopt an annual budget, subject to public expenses, together with any further expenditure that the annual meeting may deem advisable for the furtherance of the work.

Several resolutions dealing with finance were read and discussed, it being agreed that upon the finance committee shall rest the responsibility of making assessments for local councils to cover their expenditure of each council with the exception of the federation fees. It will also be the duty of this committee to devise further means for raising the necessary funds to make up the deficit in the event of the money asked for from the Local Councils not being forthcoming.

Mrs. H. H. Parsons, Toronto read the report of the committee on press and resolutions on the publication of the Year Book were discussed and agreed upon.

Guiding Classes To be Conducted By Eagle Owl

The Local Association of Girl Guides at their meeting yesterday afternoon heard a report of the garden fete held at Government House, which had proved a very great success socially and financially. A very hearty vote of thanks was given to the convener, Mrs. L. A. Genge, who in her turn thanked all who had helped towards such a splendid result.

ALEXANDRA ROSE DAY FOR SOLARIUM

I.O.D.E. Arrange Annual Sale of Roses For June 26

Alexandra Rose Day, which was instituted a number of years ago throughout the Empire for the sale of roses to assist Queen Alexandra's Cripples in England, will be observed in Victoria on June 26. This year the proceeds will be devoted to the Solarium at Mill Bay, as a memorial tribute to the late Queen, after whom the Solarium has been named.

The I.O.D.E. as in previous years, is in charge of the arrangements, and they are hoping for a bumper collection to assist this very worthy cause. The headquarters for the day will be at the Ritz Hotel, Fort Street, and the decoration of it has been undertaken by the Florence Nightingale Chapter.

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, who is acting as convener for the day, will be very glad to receive the names of any of the women's organizations who would like to assist and are not already taking part, also of those who would be kind enough to assist in tagging. They are requested to telephone 2156 or 5123L in the morning or evening.

"PAY AS YOU WEAR" SYSTEM ATTACKED

Y.W.C.A. Tells National Council That Credit Undermines Honesty

Vancouver, June 15 (Special to Canadian Press)—The honesty of Canadian girls and women is being steadily undermined by "pay on the installment plan" and the temptation to wear more expensive clothes than they can afford to pay for, is being repeatedly put in the way of girls and women on salary by firms who specialize in the "pay as you wear" schemes, the National Council of Women was informed yesterday through a letter from Young Women's Christian Association executives.

In asking the co-operation of the National Council in taking drastic steps to put an end to installment payment plans, the Y.W.C.A. announced that they would launch a Dominion-wide campaign for thrift among salaried women in the early autumn. It was decided to refer the letter to Provincial and Local Councils of the National Council to act through their affiliated societies.

STERILIZATION URGED

Following the report on mental hygiene read by Mrs. J. R. Gilley, N.W. Westminister, and compiled by Dr. Elizabeth Short of Ottawa, Dr. Stowe Gulien of Toronto spoke briefly in support of sterilization of the feeble-minded, declaring that she believed in sterilization and even surgical treatment if necessary, for the mentally deficient. The situation was, she declared, distressing, and a very real menace to public welfare. "I believe implicitly," said Dr. Stowe Gulien, "that remedial measures should be resorted to and everything possible done to prevent the feeble-minded from propagating."

Mrs. C. R. Edwards of Calgary presented the report of the committee of public health, of which she is convener, both reports being adopted.

Among the interesting features of the garden fete to be held at Bishop's Close to-morrow afternoon will be "Child Songs and Games" presented by small children of the primary class of the Cathedral Sunday School, under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Merrix. There will be two performances, one at 3.30 and one at 5 o'clock.

The various stalls and attractions will be as follows: Donation stall, Mrs. Quainton and Mrs. Crump; home cooking, Mrs. Thomas; candy, Miss Dyson; superfruit, Mr. Finlinson; ice cream, soft drinks, etc., Mrs. Thomson; afternoon tea, Mrs. Grant.

The Men's Guild have charge of the amusements, consisting of clock golf, Aunt Sally, bean bags and a shooting gallery.

In the evening a flannel dance will be held in the gymnasium from 9 to 11, under the auspices of the A.Y.P.A. Refreshments will be served under the convener'ship of Mrs. Miles.

Donations towards any of the stalls will be gratefully received.

Held Silver Tea—The Ladies' Aid of the Wilkinson Road United Church held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. George Jones, Carey Road, on Friday afternoon. An interesting entertainment, consisting of readings, vocal and instrumental music, was given. Refreshments were served by the ladies to a large number of visitors during the afternoon.

Mothers' Union—A special service will be held in the Memorial Hall chapel on Tuesday, June 22, at 3 p.m. All mothers of children in the school kindly consented to officiate. All mothers interested are cordially invited to attend.

St. George's Alumnae—The annual meeting of the St. George's School Alumnae will be held at the school to-morrow afternoon at 5 p.m. All members are invited to attend.

Concert at Marigold—On Friday, June 18 a concert will be held in the Marigold Hall in aid of the solarium fund. The programme, which includes a playlet entitled "The Princess's Dream," songs, trios, duets, recitations and dances, will be given by the children of Marigold district, and the pupils of Miss Michaelis of Victoria. Mrs. McN. Beckett, school trustee, has kindly consented to preside, and will take the chair at 8 p.m. Candy will also be for sale.

Music Examinations—The local practical examinations in music for the McGill Conservatory of Music will take place at Fletcher Bros.' Music Store, commencing Friday afternoon, June 18, at 2 p.m. The visiting examiner will be Mrs. J. H. Treharne of Montreal.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your children's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can not possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last for months. Be sure your drugist gives you Mulified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package. (Adv.)

THESE WOMEN

By MALCOLM DUART
(Copyrighted)

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

"Here's why I wanted you to come to my office," he said, as the girl settled herself in a chair beside his desk.

He took some papers from a drawer, and passed them to her. She lifted the folded documents, shuffling them in her hands, and looked at him inquiringly.

"You haven't known it," he said, "but since your nineteenth birthday you have really been independent of me."

"But I don't want to be independent of you," she said promptly.

He laughed. "But this is a practical matter—a financial affair. Those papers that you have in your hand mean this, briefly—you are a rich woman. I have turned over to you, in cash, and bonds, one-half of everything that I own—or used to own."

He looked at her inquiringly. She smiled, laid down the papers, came around the edge of the desk, and kissed him warmly.

"Thank you, daddy," she said, "but I don't want it. I don't want to have you give me all that. You've given me everything I need, and I want you to have all the money."

He shook his head, as he patted her fondly on the cheek.

"But, my child, there are certain practical things in life. There may come a time when you dislike me utterly."

She tried to seal his mouth with her hand. "Whether that time comes or not—whether you like me, or don't like me—it is a good thing for you to have your own money, and to be able to do exactly what you want."

"There is an account in the bank in your name. It is enough to take you around the world, if you want to do that. There's a safe-deposit box, also in your name. It has in it railroad and government bonds, which you can turn into cash any time you want to. These bonds have coupons on them, and the interest on all those coupons belongs to you. They are yielding you a large income. You can turn the bonds into cash at any moment you desire. Here's the key to the box."

Rummaging in the desk again, he produced a key, and gave it to her. She took it, and looked at it speculatively.

"I have no duplicate of the key," Morton went on. "That's your safe-deposit box, and everything in it is yours. Do exactly as you please with it, always."

She smiled. "Can I buy new imported automobiles for you with the money?"

He laughed. "You can, but I wouldn't advise it. I like to select my own cars. For a girl to buy a man an automobile is a good deal like buying his ties—there's apt to be a clash in judgment."

The girl sat on the desk, before him, and stroked his hair. "Why did you do this for me?"

"Because I love you, and I want you always to be free to do whatever will make you happy," he said.

"Nothing makes me happy except to be with you," she said softly. She held out her arms to him, but smiling, he turned in his chair, and arose.

"The office isn't a good place to make love," he laughed. "Do you mind waiting here while I go into the cashier's office a little while?"

He provided her with a book, and left her alone. Her eyes wandered curiously over the office. It had been two or three years since she had entered it before. The table on which she was sitting was of walnut, polished to a satin finish. So was Morton's desk, and so were the chairs that sat about the walls.

"Expensive," she said to herself. A large painting filled the space between the two windows. In the semi-gloom, it was startling life-like—the work of an able artist. As Audrey was looking at this, a clerk entered, and laid an opened telegram on Morton's desk.

As he went out, Audrey leaned forward with feminine curiosity, and read the message.

"Will come to you to-morrow, dear?" she read. This signature was: "Nona."

CHAPTER XII

It was a pale and agitated girl who awaited Morton, when he returned to the office ten minutes later.

As he opened the door and stepped into the room, he stopped a moment, and looked at her. There was an expression in his eye, as if he were awaiting something unusual.

"Sorry to leave you alone so long," he said, cheerily.

She looked up at him, without replying. Her eyes were heavy, and her face was a little pale. His eye caught the telephone message lying on his desk, and he nodded, without reading it.

"I read it," she said, her voice lifeless.

Her eyes were down, now, and there was a look almost of satisfaction in his face as he replied:

"I didn't know you read things on my desk," he said.

Her voice was weary. "I should not have done so, I'm sorry. I'm terribly sorry. I—I think I'd better go home."

She arose, and drew her light coat around her.

"I didn't know that Nona came to Tacoma," she said, as she stood at the outer door.

"She doesn't come regularly," Morton said. "As a matter of fact, I think she has not been here before at all."

A girl stood, turning the door-knob, and thinking.

"Did you send for her?" she asked suddenly.

A flash of genuine surprise showed on Morton's face. "Yes, I did," he said.

"How did you know?"

"I—I supposed so," she said. "When you came out of the telephone office, I knew there was something you did not want to tell me about."

Morton lifted her hand, and patted it. "Intuition," he said, "is a wonderful thing. But Audrey, don't let intuition carry you too far."

She took her hand from him, and laughed her coat about her.

"I'm going now," she said, and left the room. For once, she did not kiss him as she went away, and Morton stood looking after her, as she disappeared down the hall.

There were no words between Morton and his ward the next morning, aside from the casual conversation of breakfast time. She did not allude to the telegram he had received, and neither did he.

He was dressed with his accustomed care, as he left the house, and standing in the doorway, Audrey watched him as he disappeared down the street. Biting her lower lip thoughtfully, she stood in the door a long time. At last, with a sudden air of decision, she turned to the housemaid, and told her to order a car.

Hurriedly, Audrey ran to her own room, donned her hat, coat and gloves, and was outside as the car drew up to the door.

"The railway station," she directed. She arrived just as the train from Seattle pulled in. Directing the driver to wait, she walked hastily through the station, and as she stepped upon the platform, she encountered Morton.

He greeted her, without surprise. The train ground to a halt, and a moment Nona came running down the platform, a porter following her with a tiny handbag.

"I brought a trunk," cried Nona, as she caught sight of Morton. She was wearing him, her face alight with pleasure, when she caught sight of Audrey. She stopped, suddenly.

Coolly, Audrey stepped forward and offered her hand.

"Mr. Morton and I came to meet you," she said, deliberately.

And back at the girl. There was something like fright in her manner, as she gave her own hand to Audrey. "She knew you were coming, of course."

Again her eyes sought Morton's questioningly. His face was impassive. "I had not expected Miss Morton to be at the station," he said.

"She knew you were coming, of course," he said.

He took Nona's trunk check, and arranged for the transfer of her baggage to the hotel. "Your car is waiting," he asked Audrey.

She nodded. "We will take Miss—"

"We'll take Nona to the hotel," said Audrey. "Then I'll be very glad to show her the city."

She turned to Nona, cool eyes appraising the young woman.

"You've never been here before?" "Once," said Nona.

Morton turned. "When was that?" he asked.

"Years ago," she said. "I was sixteen then. I was a dancer."

Morton pursued the question no further, but led the two young women into his car, and helped them into it.

As they rode, he eyed Audrey, when her own car was turned away.

"Did I understand that you were going to show Nona the city to-day?" he asked.

Audrey turned, and looked full at him, as if answering more than his question. "Yes, I would love to show her everything we have here that is pretty. I don't want her to be lonesome."

Following the tennis tournament a delightful supper was served the guests by the Misses McIntyre, Parnell, Tully and Green, after which the rest of the evening was spent in games and dancing.

HORSE RACING

Winnipeg, June 15.—Favorites again fared badly at the Polo Park track yesterday, outsiders capturing the long end of the purses, Sunny Ways at odds of 7 to 1, won the Hotel Alexandra purse after a nose finish from Silent Partner. The favorite, Billy P., was not placed.

First race—$500, three-year-olds, two and half furlongs: Nani Hauk, $8.75, $3.25, $2.00; won; Waikiki, $2.60, $2.60, second; Watts Track, $2.75, third. Time 1:28 1-5.

Second race—$500, Western Canada bred, three-year-olds and up, five furlongs: Pat H., $30.65, $9.15, $5.30; won; Winkah, $12.25, $7.15, $5.00; second; Kingmaker, $3.40, third. Time 1:03 1-5.

Third race—$500, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs: Cadmus, $20.50, $11.40, $5.25; won; Sea View, $7.15, $5.00, second; Miss Frauland, $4.30, third. Time 1:15 3-5.

Fourth race—$500, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs: Cadmus, $20.50, $11.40, $5.25; won; Sea View, $7.15, $5.00, second; Ulaton, $3.75, third. Time 1:28 4-5.

Fifth race—Hotel Alexandra, $500, three-year-olds and up, five furlongs: Sunny Ways, $15.55, $6.45, $4.30; won; Silent Partner, $6.00, $5.05, second; Sweetest, $5.50, third. Time 1:02 2-5.

Sixth race—$700, three-year-olds and up, seven furlongs: Rhinegold, $2.50, $7.15, $4.40; won; Talfair, $21.40, $11.45, second; Ulaton, $3.75, third. Time 1:28 4-5.

Seventh race—Armstrong claiming, handicap, three-year-olds and up, mile and eighth, purse $500: Son of Uno, $5.30, $12.30, won by a head, $2.50, $2.30, second; The Franciscan, $5.25, third. Time 1:56 1-5.

New York, June 15.—Singerfoot, Maryland-bred colt owned by J. E. Griffith, scored sensation in the Brooklyn Handicap, featured event of the Aqueduct opening yesterday.

R. L. Gerry's Pegasus, a second and Dangerous third, the race being marked by a poor start in which the favorite, American Flag, had scant chance after the rise of the barrier.

American Flag went to the post at even money, with Sarazen second choice, while the price on Singerfoot was 12 to 1. Sarazen was away fast, setting a terrific pace, and appeared to have his field beaten, but he headed into the stretch, but Singerfoot came fast in a head-to-head dash with Pegasus, the two fighting it out to the wire after Sarazen quit.

Singerfoot was the winner by a head, while Pegasus had four lengths on Dangerous.

The time for the nine furlongs was 1:50 2-5.

Hamilton, Ont., June 15.—The Mountain Valley stakes of $2,500, contested over the five lengths of a mile route, proved an easy victory yesterday for Japanned, a two-year-old, at the Hamilton Jockey Club track. Weighed down heavily with 125 pounds, Japanned was much the best of the six youngsters who contested for the stake and won by the margin of four lengths to lift the major portion of the purse for her owner, A. C. Weston of Maryland.

Mrs. A. L. Livingston's Evermore finished with a rush to trim Landlord out by a full length for second money.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY
The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Henderson who passed away in this city on Sunday afternoon will take place on Wednesday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home, corner of Hillside Avenue and Cedar Hill Road, where services will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Two of the largest hotels in the world, now in use in Canada, can raise 500 tons of ore an hour from a depth of 3,200 feet.

TUG COLLISION IS SUBJECT OF APPEAL

Sinking of Radius in Narrows Causes Litigation

Claiming that their actions since notice of appeal had been given were inconsistent with the right of appeal, J. A. McInnes, for the Capt. J. A. Gates Tug and Wharfage Company of Vancouver, moved for the appeal of the Franklin Insurance Company of Philadelphia to be quashed by the B.C. Appeal Court this morning. W. Martin Griffin opposed the motion. Argument is proceeding.

The insurance company is appealing against the judgment of Mr. Justice Morrison ordering them to pay the tug company $30,000 on two insurance policies on the motor tug Radius, which was run down and sent to the bottom of English Bay at a point just off the entrance to the first narrows in a collision with the Anxox on August 26.

The following day the tug company abandoned the Radius to the insurance company and later secured judgment to collect the full amount of insurance. Later the insurance company and the owners of the tug, Anxox and it was on these grounds counsel applied for the appeal to be quashed.

Mrs. Aymer and Mrs. Poyntz lost to Miss Lauriston and Miss Brown, 6-8.

Mrs. Turner and Miss Mulcahy won from Miss Page and Miss Bird, 6-5.

Miss Wise and Kent-Fawkes won from Miss Green and Thomas, 8-3.

Miss Mulcahy and Aymer won from Miss Butterfield and Wyndham, 6-5.

Miss Wise and Poyntz lost to Mrs. Thomas and Stock, 4-7.

Mrs. Kent-Fawkes and Butler lost to Miss Thomas and Parnell, 3-8.

Mrs. Poyntz and Mulcahy lost to Miss Lauriston and Parnell, 6-4.

Following the tennis tournament a delightful supper was served the guests by the Misses McIntyre, Parnell, Tully and Green, after which the rest of the evening was spent in games and dancing.

GLACIER PARK OPENED TO-DAY

National Playground in Montana Rockies to be Operated For Seventeenth Season

With prospects of the greatest season in its history, Glacier National Park, in the northern Montana Rockies, opens to-day for its seventeenth season, fully prepared to care for the expected increased attendance. Glacier Park is on the main transcontinental track of the Great Northern Railway, and a considerable proportion of the tourist travel, say Great Northern passenger representatives, continues on to the coast after visit at the park, it being but an additional day's ride to the seaboard.

The combination of a visit to the park and to the Pacific Northwest in one trip is making an increased appeal to eastern tourists, and this is reflected in the large through traffic already booked for stopover at Glacier Park.

Glacier Park is one of the newer of the national playgrounds. It consists in addition to unlimited mountain scenery, sixty living glaciers and 250 beautiful lakes, affording every sort of recreation, from camping to life in big modern hotels, which will accommodate hundreds of guests at one time. Ample facilities for transportation in the park are also provided, and the tourist can find any sort of recreation he desires. The Great Northern's "Oriental Limited" and "Glacier Park Limited" trains unload directly at the park entrance.

New York, June 15.—Singerfoot, Maryland-bred colt owned by J. E. Griffith, scored sensation in the Brooklyn Handicap, featured event of the Aqueduct opening yesterday.

R. L. Gerry's Pegasus, a second and Dangerous third, the race being marked by a poor start in which the favorite, American Flag, had scant chance after the rise of the barrier.

American Flag went to the post at even money, with Sarazen second choice, while the price on Singerfoot was 12 to 1. Sarazen was away fast, setting a terrific pace, and appeared to have his field beaten, but he headed into the stretch, but Singerfoot came fast in a head-to-head dash with Pegasus, the two fighting it out to the wire after Sarazen quit.

Singerfoot was the winner by a head, while Pegasus had four lengths on Dangerous.

The time for the nine furlongs was 1:50 2-5.

Hamilton, Ont., June 15.—The Mountain Valley stakes of $2,500, contested over the five lengths of a mile route, proved an easy victory yesterday for Japanned, a two-year-old, at the Hamilton Jockey Club track. Weighed down heavily with 125 pounds, Japanned was much the best of the six youngsters who contested for the stake and won by the margin of four lengths to lift the major portion of the purse for her owner, A. C. Weston of Maryland.

Mrs. A. L. Livingston's Evermore finished with a rush to trim Landlord out by a full length for second money.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY
The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Henderson who passed away in this city on Sunday afternoon will take place on Wednesday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home, corner of Hillside Avenue and Cedar Hill Road, where services will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Two of the largest hotels in the world, now in use in Canada, can raise 500 tons of ore an hour from a depth of 3,200 feet.

CELEBRATION WHEN PACIFIC LINER SAILS

SS. President Grant, which departed from Seattle at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Grant is the first vessel to sail under the house flag of her new owners, the R. Stanley Dollar interests. The Grant will arrive here at 7 o'clock, leaving again for the Orient about 8:30 o'clock. Upon her arrival here the Grant will be met by W. M. Allen, the local agent, and all the local representatives of other shipping and railroad companies.

SEINE FISHING BOAT LAUNCHED

Miss Grace Beckwith Christens New Vessel For Clayquot Sound Canning Co.

Ms. Kennells, the fifty-five-foot seine fishing boat being constructed for the Clayquot Sound Canning Company by Foster's Victoria Motorboat Works, was successfully launched last night at 8 o'clock from the company's ways on Bay Street.

Miss Grace Beckwith, B.A., talented daughter of J. L. Beckwith, christened the craft as she slowly commenced to slide down the slip into the harbor. A large party of guests witnessed the launching.

The Kennells is fifty-five feet long, with a beam of fourteen feet and a depth of six feet. She will be equipped with a thirty-six h.p. two cycle semi-Diesel Gardner engine, which will give the vessel a speed of ten knots. One of these engines has already been installed in the Annie H. also the property of the Clayquot Sound Canning Company, and has given fine service, according to officials of the company.

The Kennells will be completed in about two weeks and will be immediately commissioned into fishing service.

San Francisco, June 15.—Passengers totaling 438 in all classes are due here to-day aboard the Matson liner Maui from Honolulu and the liner Sonoma of the Oceanic fleet from Australia. Included in the Maui passenger list is a large delegation of school teachers who will spend their vacations on the mainland. The Sonoma has 2,097 tons of cargo aboard.

Workmen were busy yesterday cleaning the mud and sea refuse from the Shell oil barge Martinez, refueling Saturday by the pontoon method. The only damage located thus far on the Martinez is a large hole on the starboard side. Part of the vessel's cargo of 15,000 gallons of gasoline is still intact, the remainder having been pumped from the craft last week. The Martinez was rammed and sunk by the Associated oil tanker Frank G. Drum in Raccoon Straits April 28.

More than 7,500 tons of California products will be headed from here to-day in the holds of the Johnson Line motorship Balboa for distribution throughout Scandinavia. The cargo will consist chiefly of bags and dried fruits. The Balboa will also take out a capacity passenger list.

Flag day was observed along the local waterfront yesterday when ships of all nations put on full dress. Lumber schooners, as well as the larger vessels, observed the occasion.

Navigation through the bridge at Third and Channel Streets will be suspended from June 18 until June 21, due to repairs that will be made on the structure.

WORKER DROWNED AT ALBERNI CANNERY

Harry Farragher Loses Life Working on Scow

Port Alberni, June 15.—A sad accident occurred at Kildonan Cannery on Sunday morning when Harry Farragher was drowned while taking a scow off a gridiron.

Mr. Farragher held one of the most important positions at the Kildonan Cannery for many years as net boss.

His body was not found until about 5:30 in the morning, the accident having occurred about 1 o'clock. He leaves a widow.

Seattle, June 15.—Twenty-two U.S. salmon canning concerns of the Pacific Coast which asked the Federal Trade Commission for exemption under an export trade act, from anti-trust laws, represent, it was estimated here yesterday, $10,000,000 investment. These concerns are joined in the salmon export corporation of Seattle.

The corporation has capital stock of $250,000. It intends, according to announcement, to handle the entire export for its members of the lower grades of canned salmon known as pinks and chums. The chum and pink output of these concerns is put at sixty per cent. of that pack in Alaska, Washington, Oregon and California. This total pack is 300,000,000 cases annually.

In anticipation of approval by the commission the corporation opened offices here and began arrangements to handle the pack of pinks and chums that begins next month.

L. J. Hull of Seattle said the corporation was to do for its members what the Douglas Fir Exploitation and export company, composed of lumbermen west of the Cascades in Washington and Oregon does. The Douglas Fir Company works under the export trade act, which is also known as the Webb-Pomerene law.

"The world war brought our lower grades of salmon to the attention of Europe," said Hull. "We have encountered difficulties in following up this demand. Competition is notable from Siberia, Japan and Canada."

Seattle, June 15.—Part of the United States battle fleet is to arrive on Puget Sound from the south June 30, and the fleet is to assemble at Port Angeles, on the Strait of Juan de Fuca, July 10 and manoeuvre out of there until July 23. After visits to Puget Sound ports, the fleet is to depart from Port Angeles for California August 16.

MANY CANDIDATES IN ALBERTA ELECTION

COMING OF AGE

The election will mark the coming of age of Alberta, for it was twenty-one years ago that the territory was created a province.

The United Farmers, led by Premier J. E. Brownlee, are asking a return to power on their record during the past five years, while the Liberals and Conservatives seek to overthrow the Government on the grounds that a balanced budget in only one of the past five years shows extravagance. They also contend that the Government employed the treatment of the big issues, namely, northern railways, natural resources, redistribution and finance.

VOTERS' LISTS

Returning officers directed the efforts of 3,000 enumerators and a voting census was taken of a territory which reaches from the United States border line on the south to within hailing distance of the Arctic Circle. Among the returning officers is Mrs. W. G. Baker, believed to be the first woman returning officer ever appointed in Canada.

The Liberals have seen three successive leaders depart, viz. Hon. Charles Stewart, who was elected to assume the portfolio of the Interior; Hon. J. R. Boyle and Hon. C. R. Mitchell, sworn in as members of the Supreme Court of Alberta. The choice of the recent election fell upon Joseph Shaw, at one time Independent member for Calgary in the House of Commons. He was defeated by Hon. R. B. Bennett in the last Federal election.

The Conservatives, whose representatives dwindled from thirteen in 1916-1920 to the present Alberta Legislature, are planning their hopes on their new leader, A. A. McGillivray of Calgary, and have nearly all of their candidates ready for nomination day.

MANY CHANGES

The span of twenty-one years has seen many changes in the personnel of the Alberta Legislature, and it is interesting to note that not one member of the first Legislature of 1905 was in the late House. The last of the "Old Guard" to depart were Hon. J. R. Boyle, now Mr. Justice Boyle, and Hon. W. Cross, who unsuccessfully contested the riding of Athabasca for the Liberals in the last general election. The senior member in point of years in

NEWS IN BRIEF

The regular meeting of the directors of the Y.M.C.A., scheduled for last night, was cancelled on account of some of the directors being absent from the city.

All employees of the civic services have been granted a holiday for the purpose of the annual picnic, to be held this year on July 17 at the Goldstream flats.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, will be a guest of the Victoria Real Estate Board at its regular luncheon to-morrow, when he will speak on the financial position of the city.

The Shell and Mineral Products Limited have purchased from the city a boiler and engine used in the construction of the Johnson Street Bridge. The apparatus cost $1,350 and will bring $1,575, the council was told.

A special meeting of the Esquimalt Liberal Association has been called for to-night at the rooms, Esquimalt Road, at 8 o'clock to discuss the proposed picnic and reunion of Liberals in the Nanaimo federal riding which is to take place at Duncan on July 1.

To-morrow commencing at 8 o'clock, another of Stevenson's plays will be given over radio station C.F.T.V. The play is entitled "In a Man's World," and the action takes place in London, England, with an almost entirely new cast of characters.

Informing of the fact that the Saanich Council is also taking action in regard to the early infestation of isolated areas, the City Council last night decided to get in touch with its neighbor to offer its co-operation in a joint drive against the pest.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, will address the local Real Estate Board, at luncheon to-morrow in the Chamber of Commerce, on civic financial matters. Thomas Brown, a guest of the Board, will speak on his impressions of California.

The Victoria Sea Cadets' band of the Navy League will attend the Vancouver July 1 festivities, where they will render a series of concerts, which was announced to-day. It is the second excursion this year for the youthful musicians, who attended the Bellingham Tulip Festival to represent the city.

Mrs. Venture, of "The Spaniards," Colwood, was fined $300 in the Provincial Police Court yesterday for selling liquor, contrary to the provisions of the Act. Magistrate Jay imposed sentence having heard the evidence of Provincial Police officers, who stated that the defendant was guilty to similar charges, and was convicted and fined a like amount.

The City Council was notified last night of the intention of the Cameron Wood and Coal Company Limited of extending the present brick structure in rear of the Moody block on Broad Street, and the erection of concealed parking sheds there behind on original plans. Plans are to be submitted later for the council's approval.

At a meeting of the Young People's Locals of the Salvation Army last night, the annual arrangements were made to have the annual Victoria civic picnic on July 1 at the Finlayson Flats. Buses will leave from in front of the Citadel, Broad Street at 8 o'clock. Various committees were picked including a sports committee to keep the games going from start to finish.

A mild form of measles is affecting city schools, according to a report of Dr. Arthur G. Price, city health officer, to the council last night. In May 115 children contracted the disease, which appears to be in a very mild form. In the previous month only seven cases were reported, the rapid growth of the disease being attributed to children who should not have been allowed to attend school.

In response to a "summons" demanding his presence in the case of "The People vs. Crime," Mayor Pennington appeared in the Victoria civil court for the forthcoming convention of the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police. The convention, June 21-23, will be held this year in Spokane, Victoria has been chosen as the gathering in 1925. The invitation was extended through H. W. Goggin, sheriff of Victoria.

In a report of the public works committee the council ratified sidewalk, trails and other additions at a cost in the neighborhood of $2,500. The committee also recommended that the city should take on the cost of the sidewalk and other work on the city for the basis with owners asking the improvements. The city also plans to lay a concrete sidewalk from Douglas Street to the rear entrance of the Art Gallery of the Crystal Garden.

The Centennial Church will hold a garden party to-morrow afternoon and evening in the grounds of the church, adjoining the church on George Road. There will be many attractions to interest both young and old, and the day will be held in conjunction with the garden party. The sports will include baseball for the young men versus the older ones, basketball for the boys, horseshoe, croquet, and other games. There will also be community singing.

Miscellaneous tenders were awarded last night to David Spencer Limited, the Victoria Printing and Publishing Company, and one for purchase to the Northern United Company who offer $455 for two fire department steam pumps now obsolete. The council authorized a grant of $500 to the Victorian Order of Nurses and one of $150 to the B.C. Agricultural Association, on account, and $3,333 to the Victoria and Saanich beaches and parks committee as the city's share of upkeep this year.

A novel variation of the city manager form of government was held before the City Council last night by James A. Griffith, who proposed that the city seek legislation to bring about a change. Under the Griffith plan the council would be elected as at present, but would choose a mayor from their own number. The mayor would take office at $4,000 a year, and if re-elected as an alderman year by year, and again voted into the chair, would sustain a salary increase in $2,000 steps up to $10,000. This left the chief executive post still in the hands of the people, by way of the annual elections, and would insure results, said Mr. Griffith. The proposal will be laid before the special committee dealing with the city manager problem.

The lodging house by-law, as amended, received its final reading by the City Council last night. The street traffic regulation measure has again been tabled for further consideration by the Police Commission.

In a special session called for the purpose this evening the city school board will consider the annual report of municipal inspector George H. Deane, on the teaching staff at city schools. The business of the meeting will be confined to the report, it is understood.

With the strawberry-picking season well under way, there is now a demand for pickers for the loganberry, raspberry and black-currant crops. Those desiring to help with these are requested to register immediately with the Provincial Employment Bureau, Langley Street, as work is waiting for them.

Joe, charged with smoking opium at premises at 517 Fisgard Street, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Jay in the city police court this morning and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20, or in default thereof to be confined to the workhouse for 30 days. Sergeant Thomas Heatley, who arrested the accused in company with Constable W. Harper, testified.

Notices have been mailed of a meeting which will be held on Tuesday, June 22, at 8 p.m. at Fletcher Brothers' opium store to consider a proposal which has been drawn up by a group of local musical festival enthusiasts for holding a local festival to-morrow, without delay with Miss Wigley, Miss McGraw or Miss McLaren, in order that advantage may be taken of the special rates offered by the C.P.R. to clubs.

Kumtiks Club—Those members of the Kumtiks Club who are able to accept the invitation of the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club to their banquet on Saturday evening are asked to come to the club at 10 p.m. without delay with Miss Wigley, Miss McGraw or Miss McLaren, in order that advantage may be taken of the special rates offered by the C.P.R. to clubs.

SINGER SUES FOR $25,000 DAMAGES FOR LOST CHANCE

Says Accident in Motor Bus Ruined Chances of Fame

Twenty-five thousand dollars damages on the grounds that the career of a singer, for which she had trained, has been ruined through an accident, are claimed by Helen Louise Bradshaw, twenty-one-year-old daughter of the chief of police of New Westminster.

The B.C. Appeal Court this morning refused an application of W. W. Walsh on behalf of the British Columbia Rapid Transit Company, subsidiary company of the B.C. electric and operators of a stage bus line between Vancouver and New Westminster for a stay of all proceedings pending a decision on an appeal to come before the court at the present sitting. The trial will proceed in Vancouver June 23. The appeal is against the judgment of Mr. Justice Morrison, directing the action to be tried by a jury.

Fifteen thousand dollars is also claimed by the mother of the girl for injuries sustained in the same collision. A. H. MacNeill, K.C., who appeared for the plaintiffs, responded stated. Both were injured when the stage on which they were driving from New Westminster to Vancouver collided with a street car. If it were not for the accident counsel claimed the daughter upon whom large sums of money had been spent in lessons would have earned large sums of money as a singer. She was now prevented forever from earning anything by her voice.

Mr. Walsh, his clients admitted the liability but objected to trial by jury. It was a scientific investigation and they were limited under the order to a common jury. Mr. MacNeill believed "common" jury had accidentally crept into the judgment. He assured counsel for the company he was quite ready to accept a scientific jury.

Mr. Walsh argued for a stay of proceedings on the grounds that with the trial set for June 23, the appeal would be rendered ineffective if the trial proceeded on the date set.

The motion was dismissed. Chief Justice Macdonald remarking that he could see no reason to grant a stay of proceedings and interfere with the trial. It was not, he thought, a scientific investigation. It was a straight action for damages on which expert evidence could be called. Mr. Justice Macdonald concurred. Mr. Justice McPhillips disagreed.

ENGLISH FOOTBALLERS BEACH COAST

Lavish Entertainment For Them In Victoria

First Game on Coast to Be Played in Vancouver Tomorrow and Second in Vancouver on Saturday; Tourists Will Spend More Time in Victoria Than at Any Other Place in Canada, and Every Effort Is Being Made to Make Them Remember This City

Chaperoned by Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, the touring British soccer team reached Vancouver this morning, and were greeted by Vice-president John Russell, of the D.F.A., and provincial soccer officials.

The tourists make their first appearance on the Coast in Vancouver on Wednesday evening at 6.30 o'clock. The second game will be played at Nanaimo on Saturday.

It was announced this morning that Joe Smith and Dave Jack, Bolton players, will substitute for Cross and Waincoat on the visitors' lineup on Saturday.

A. H. Kingston, manager of the touring English team, expressed himself as delighted with the tour on arriving in Vancouver.

"We never realized that Canada was such a vast country," he said this morning. "Asked for an impression of the teams they had played up to the present, Mr. Kingston stated that the opposition had been much stronger than they had anticipated and that all the games had been hard fought."

"Even the match at Fort William, where we won 2-0, was a hard game, and our boys simply took the chances that came their way to run up such a big score. We are looking toward meeting worthy opponents at Nanaimo next Saturday," he said.

Arrangements have been made for a most lavish entertainment of the touring English football eleven during their stay on the Pacific coast. The Englishmen will spend most of this week in Vancouver and cross over to Nanaimo for their match on Saturday.

Every effort is being made to make Victoria stand out in the minds of the visitors. They will make their longest stay of the trip here and Jimmy Adam, British Columbia councillor on the Dominion Football Association, is making every effort to see that the famous Englishmen enjoy themselves while here.

ARRIVE HERE SUNDAY

On Sunday members of the Rotary Club will bring the team down the Island Highway from Nanaimo. They will arrive here about 7 o'clock and after dining at the Pacific Club will proceed to the Empress Hotel, where they will make their headquarters during their stay here.

On Monday the team will be the guests of the Gyro Club at a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce. Afterwards the Gyros will drive the tourists around Gordon Head and back to town to visit the beautiful gardens of Dave Spencer on Cook Street. Mrs. Dave Spencer has kindly offered to serve tea to the party.

The footballers will be the guests of the D.F.A. for dinner at the Empress Hotel and afterwards will attend a frolic to be held by the Sons of England at the K. of P. Hall from 8 to 11 o'clock.

On Tuesday the Kiwanis Club will have the footballers as their guests at a luncheon. In the afternoon the tourists will visit the world-famous Butchart Gardens. The Lower Island Football Association will then do its part and entertain the Englishmen to dinner at the Dominion Hotel, after which the party will be the guests of Cliff Denham at the Capitol Theatre.

On Wednesday the party will make a trip by boat through the harbor to the Gorge as guests of the B.C. Electric Railway Company. They will have tea at the Japanese tea gardens and then return to town to prepare for their match with the pick of Victoria at the Royal Athletic Park at 6.30 o'clock. Following the game there will be a civic dinner at the Dominion Hotel at which Mayor Carl Penderay will preside. The Englishmen will be guests of the Crystal Garden management after the dinner and the dance floor and swimming tank will be at their disposal.

The Rotary Club will entertain the team to luncheon at the Empress Hotel on Thursday.

PREMIER INTERESTED

Hon. John Oliver is taking a great interest in the visit of the English team. He has assured Mr. Adam of his desire to help out in any way possible to make the visit outstanding and has offered to take the boys out for dinner if their is sufficient time.

From this list of entertainment it can be seen that the Englishmen will be kept busy from the time they arrive until they depart. They should carry away fond remembrances of the capital.

MUST PLAY SOCCER MATCH TO-MORROW AND NOT THURSDAY

The football game between the Wednesday League representatives and the Victoria All-stars will be played at the Royal Athletic Park at 6.30 o'clock on Thursday.

A SMART FORWARD

WILLIAM WAINCOAT

Inside left is his usual position but he has been known to act as centre forward—especially during a season at Barnsley, when he was under the consideration of the selectors for a "cap." Born at Matby, in the South Yorkshire coalfield, he was assisting the Dinnington Colliery team in the South Yorkshire League when Barnsley, most astute in prospecting, secured him. For several seasons he played so well with Barnsley that eventually Middlesbrough obtained his transfer during December 1923 for a fee of £4,800. He never settled down on the banks of the Tees and was engaged by Leeds United in the middle of last March, but in October of this season he fractured an arm when playing in good form. Leeds thought so much of him that they made him the captain. There is no doubt that he is a beautiful forward. He is a wizard with the ball, but being somewhat unorthodox he is apt to mystify his own colleagues. He has had the honor of playing in the old and historic fixture between Sheffield and Glasgow. He can fill any inside position with distinction. He will play with the English team during its visit to Victoria.

Swedish Boxer Who Dropped Scott Will Visit United States

Harry Persson Won Fight in London Last Night by K.O. in Eleventh

London, June 15.—Harry Persson, Swedish boxer, won the heavyweight championship of Europe last night, by knocking out Phil Scott, the English champion, in the eleventh round of their bout at Holland Park. Persson and Scott were evenly matched, each standing about six feet three inches and weighing about 210 pounds. Scott began the attack immediately, while Persson remained on the defensive. There was much clinching and little real fighting until the seventh round. In the eighth the Swede was badly punished, but again in the ninth and tenth hardly an effective blow was delivered. The end came dramatically in the eleventh. Scott broke from a clinch, and as he did so Persson landed a right hook. Scott was felled, but rose at the count of seven. Persson, with another right, sent him to the mat again for the full count.

Persson is going to the United States for a series of matches. Many of the Swedish colony were at the ringside last night and cheered Persson loudly.

Hudson's Bay Will Meet Five C's at the Hill To-morrow

There will be one match in the Wednesday Cricket League to-morrow when the Hudson's Bay and Five C's play at Beacon Hill. Neither of these clubs has registered a win so far, so a spirited match is anticipated. The Tillamooks are the present leaders, with two wins to their credit.

Hits and Errors Combine To Give Eagles First Win

Feathered Outfit Chalk up Initial Victory at Expense of Travelers by 18-4

Eagles Register in Every Inning But Two; Ross and Lewis Crack Home Runs

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Sons of Canada	5	1	.833
Travelers	5	2	.714
Eagles	1	6	.143

There is a mark other than a nought in the Eagles' win column to-day. Last night at the Royal Athletic Park the Eagles pasted the Travelers' pitcher for eleven hits which, with nine errors, gave them a grand total of eighteen runs. The sample men batted over four tallies. Johnny Kerr takes the credit for the victory.

The game last night was of much the same type as a number of fixtures lately—a ragged free scoring affair, replete with errors. The Travelers contributed no less than nine miscues while the Eagles made six.

Still, this does not detract from the fact that the Eagles have terminated their losing streak. Scoring runs in every inning but two the bird men went like a million and for all their errors cannot be said to have given Kerr poor support.

COMMENCED EARLY

It commenced in the first inning when Outman, the first man up, took four balls for a trip to first. Then Fetherstone dropped. Colin Campbell's throw when "Hap" Gandy bunted. The bases were full with none out when Richards was walked. Ross Miller was called upon by the fans for a home run but instead let out a hard drive at Falkner Campbell at second. The ball hit Campbell's glove but he kept on going. So did Miller as also did Outman and Gandy, the latter two tallying. "Lefty" Lewis, who was shooting them over for the "Travelers" gave out his third pass to George Gandy. Wachter relieved the situation slightly, striking out Gandy took Post's grounder on the side when trying to get to second and he, too, was out. But Richards brought in another run. Ross fled out to centre.

Not content with this the Eagles added five more in the second on a couple of errors, a walk and a single. They followed this up with another in the third, one in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the seventh, and make it a surety, eight in the ninth. Lidstone went in to pitch for the Travelers in the final session but the damage had been done.

TRAVELERS ONE GOOD INNING

The Travelers had their big inning in the seventh when they scored six runs. An error, a walk, another error, a bad bound, and two more runners crossed the plate. A lone tally in the seventh when Bowden doubled and came home on a fly by Copas, which was dropped, was all the Travelers could add to their tally.

"Hap" Gandy and Ross Miller were the big men of the evening with the latter getting a double and two singles in his attempts to lead the Travelers to victory.

Bobby Ross got one of his big hits in the third inning, catching the ball when Lewis had laid it in the groove and giving it impetus enough to clear the scoreboard in centre field. Bowden was the only Travelers' batter who managed more than a single in his attempt to lead the Travelers to victory.

ESQUIMALT TEAM MEETS

All members of the Esquimalt football club are requested to attend a meeting to be held at the Esquimalt Liberal rooms to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

BREAKS WRESTLER'S CHIN

Houston, Tex., June 15.—Wayne "Big" Baker, Slav wrestler, sent John Evko, Slav wrestler, to a hospital here last night with a broken chin when he threw him from the ring after eight minutes in the second fall of their match. Evko won the first fall.

First Test Match Abandoned When Rain Continues To Fall

Nottingham, Eng., June 15.—The first test match between the English and Australian cricket teams was abandoned to-day when rain made further play impossible. Forty-seven minutes of batting only was possible in this match, this taking place on Saturday when England scored 32 for the loss of no wickets.

Major League Races Closest In Seasons

Cincinnati Hold But Four and Half Game Advantage on New York Giants, Who Are in Sixth Place, With Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago and Brooklyn Squeezed in Between; Cleveland, Second in American League, Are Three Games Ahead of Detroit in Sixth Place

New York, June 15.—Seldom in the history of major league baseball have the races in both the American and National Leagues been so close as they are to-day.

In the American, however, the race appears to be for second place.

Cincinnati leads the National, four and one-half games ahead of New York, but the Giants are in sixth place and in between are Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago and Brooklyn.

In the American, New York has a margin of nine and one-half games over the second place team, Cleveland.

The Indians are only three games ahead of Detroit in sixth place. Yesterday the Giants licked Cincinnati again, this time by 4-3.

Heavy hitting by the Brooklyn outfit set back the St. Louis Cardinals 5-5.

Pittsburgh, with Emil Yde, left-hander, ran into trouble with Boston yesterday. The Babe injured one of his knees in pursuing a fly ball.

Cleveland gained second place in the league by taking the third in a row from the Athletics and the Pirates could score only twice.

CUBS CLUB CRIPPLES

For homers by the Chicago Cubs, two by Stephenson, formerly of Cleveland, and one each by Wilson and Hartnett, accounted for a victory over Philadelphia, 9-7.

Babe Ruth hit his twenty-second homer of the year at St. Louis, and now is one behind his record of 1921. In that year on June 14 he recorded two from the delivery of George Daus, of Detroit. But the Yankees lost 7-3, and the Babe injured one of his knees in pursuing a fly ball.

Cleveland gained second place in the league by taking the third in a row from the Athletics and the Pirates could score only twice.

Esquimalt and Sons Will Battle Over League Leadership

One point is all that separates Esquimalt and the Sons of Canada in the intermediate lacrosse standing with the latter having the edge. To-night's game at the Royal Athletic Park between these teams will decide whether the Sons go still further into the lead or whether they make way for the youthful Esquimalt aggregation.

Esquimalt defeated the Sons once, in their first attempt. Cyril Baker will call the game at 6.30 o'clock sharp with the teams will be as follows:

ESQUIMALT—Banks, Thomson, Sweeney, DeCosta, White, Wright, Brown, Scalfie, Weland, Fooks, Knowles, Mercer, R. Wallace, Hicks, Hamer, Burnett, Basso, H. Mercer, Sweeney, Wright, Thompson and Darbyshire.

Few Upsets Seen In Qualifying Round For U.S. Open Golf

One Hundred and Eighteen Golfers on Seventeen Widely Scattered Courses Qualify

Thompson and Held Have the Lowest Scores, Tying at 143; Harry Cooper Has 143

New York, June 15.—One hundred and eighteen golfers playing 36 holes on seventeen widely scattered courses yesterday qualified for the United States open golf championships.

The lowest qualifying scores recorded were made by Jack Thompson at Cleveland and Eddie Held, at St. Louis, both of whom had 141 strokes.

There were a few upsets. The veteran, Alex Smith, an open champion of fifteen years ago, failed to reach the select list in the New York district. John Bisek, who tied with Bobby Jones in 1922, for the runner-up position to Gene Sarazen, went down in the Kansas City area.

Seattle, June 15.—Jack Westland, Everett, and Ben Stein, Seattle, both amateurs, and Johnny Junior, Portland, Ore., a professional, won the rights here yesterday to represent the Pacific Northwest in the national open golf tournament at Columbus, Ohio, July 4, 9 and 10. Westland's score for thirty-six holes was 144 and the others 145.

Other scorers follow: Walter Pursey, Seattle, 149; Mortie Dutra, Grays Harbor, Wash., 150; Johnny Jones, Seattle, 151; Mel Smith, Portland, Ore., 152; Harold Beer, Portland, 155; Fred Senwood, Seattle, 155; Ray Ball, Tacoma, 159; Barney Savary, Seattle, 159; Mel Hueston, Seattle, 162; William Noonan, Tacoma, 165; C. H. Perkins, Vancouver, B.C., 166.

San Francisco, June 15.—Abe Espinosa, of San Francisco, won the qualifying round for the national open championship at the Lake Mercedes Country Club yesterday with a card of 76-77-153, four strokes better than the card recorded by Walter Young, pro, at Harding Park, who came home with 77-80-157.

Russ Conroy, of San Francisco, finished third with 81-80-161; Frank Minch, of Sacramento, fourth with 84-78-162, and John Goffe of San Francisco, fifth with 81-82-163. The length of the course was increased to 6,500 yards and the competitors were forced to combat a strong wind which blew up the course. Par for the course is 71.

Campbell Sisters Show Great Form In Junior Tennis

Jean Wins Thrilling Match From Alice Cook; Helen Defeats Agnes Tulk

Yesterday afternoon the first round matches in the girls' events for the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, Long hard-fought matches were the rule, and excellent tennis was played by the girls in all the events.

In the girls under eighteen the feature match was the one in which Jean Campbell, of St. George's School, defeated Alice Cook, of St. Margaret's School, in the decisive set, the score being 5-7, 7-5, 8-6. There was very little to choose between the two players. The rallies were long and the girls hit the ball very hard. Jean Campbell's greater experience won for her in the third set but only after one of the closest junior matches ever seen at the Victoria Club.

Ellie Cooke defeated M. Lightwood in another close three-set match after losing the first set. Z. McNab accounted for the defeat of Helen Macklin, a former junior champion, in straight sets 6-2, 7-5.

Full results follow: Girls under 18—Zora McNab defeated Helen Macklin, 6-2, 7-5; Ellie Cooke defeated Mary Lightwood, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; Jean Campbell defeated Alice Cook, 5-7, 7-5, 8-6; Margaret Shelley defeated Peggy Brindley, 6-1, 6-2.

Girls under 15—Shella Donnelly defeated Mary Bucklin, 6-4, 6-4; Doreen Swayne defeated Barbara Grant, 6-2, 6-1; Helen Campbell defeated Agnes Tulk, 6-4, 7-5; Joan Paiton defeated Joan Deans, 6-0, 6-0; Eleanor Cameron defeated Kathleen Wilson, 6-2, 6-1.

Ladies' Lacrosse League to Commence Early Next Month

With two teams pepped up to make a start some time early in July, the ladies' lacrosse league has everything arranged, preparatory to the commencement. The C.P.R. "Canucks" and the "Beavers" are the squads which will compete for championship honors. These teams entered at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Play To Open Saturday For Clay Court Titles

Kingston Street Tennis Club Completes Arrangements for City Championships, Which Are Being Held Two Months Earlier This Year; Large Number of Entries Expected From Up-Island and Mainland as Well as From This City

Preparations are now well under way for the opening of the fifth annual city clay court championships at the Kingston Street Tennis Club on Saturday next. The courts will be in splendid shape, as in previous years, and the clubhouse has been materially improved.

Many local players have already signified their intention of entering, in addition to the usual large entry received from the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. The officers and members of the Victoria club are again lending their active assistance to the second principal tennis event of the year in the city. A number of Vancouver entries have already been received, including Vivian Westwood, who won the men's singles in 1922 and was runner-up in the same event in 1924, besides winning the men's doubles in 1922 and 1924, when partnered with St. Gordon and A. M. D. Fairbairn, respectively.

Entries must be made before to-morrow to H. Barnes, secretary of the Kingston Street Club, 322 Dallas Road, or to St. L. K. Verley, at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, or to any member of the Kingston Street Club Executive. Entry fees are payable in advance when filling entries—being $1.25 for each of three events or $1.50 for a single event.

CONDITIONS OF PLAY

The committee wish to emphasize to all entrants that players must wear shoes with rubber soles, without bars, heels or spikes. This rule is made necessary on all clay courts, to protect the surface. Play will commence at 2 p.m. on Saturday and on succeeding days at 4 p.m. (except on Wednesday and the final Saturday at 1.30 p.m.) The time set for play will be of the time set, or be subject to weather and other conditions. Out-of-town players will not be drawn to play before Monday, June 21. Players who cannot play on Saturday and others who are able to play before 4 p.m. on Week-days are asked to make notes to this effect when filling entries, as this information will be of great assistance to the Tournament Committee in arranging the schedule of matches. Players must play within fifteen minutes of the time set, or be subject to default by the official referee. The draw from day to day will be published in both daily papers.

Seven competition is expected in all the events. Miss Hope Leeming is the present City Champion. Her sister, Miss Marjorie Leeming, the present Canadian champion, won the event in the three previous years, and in 1925 presented a perpetual challenge cup for the same. The runners-up in a recent year have been: 1922, Miss Lawson; 1923 and 1924, Miss Mary Campbell; 1925, Miss Mona Miller.

DOUBLES CHAMPIONS

D. M. Gordon and Eric McCallum are the holders of the men's doubles shield, presented by the Wright & Ditson-Victor Company. They are as well the doubles champions of British Columbia. The women's runners-up for the previous years were: 1922-winners, D. M. Gordon, Victoria, and V. Westwood, Vancouver; runners-up, E. D. Stevens, Vancouver; 1924-winners, V. Westwood, Vancouver, and A. M. D. Fairbairn, Victoria; runners-up, H. W. Green and T. D. Stevens, Vancouver.

Consolation events will be open to those defeated in the first rounds of the ladies' singles and men's singles. Tea will be served every afternoon. There will be ample seating accommodation for spectators. The city championships are being held two months earlier this year to escape the falling light and broken weather encountered in the latter part of August.

The junior championships open to boys and girls under 17 on July 31, 1926, will not commence until June 18. However, entries may now be made.

SOFT-BALL

Following are games scheduled in the softball league for to-night:

Section "A"—Y.M.C.A. vs. Onwegos, at Central Park; Hillcrests vs. Esquimalt, at Macaulay Point; Foul Bay vs. Navy, at Canteen Grounds.

Section "B"—Andreas vs. Harris & Smith, at Beacon Hill; Hudson's Bay vs. Bryant's Bluebirds, at Victoria West Park; Cameron Lumber vs. Bapcos, at Central Park.

Section "C"—Pitmeley & Ritchie vs. Sons of England, at Beacon Hill; Wilson Bros. vs. Tillamooks, at Foul Bay.

Last night teams in "B" and "C" sections were busy. Bryant's Bluebirds had little trouble in disposing of the Bapcos by a score of 14-7. The game was fast in parts but the final winners took an early lead and were not seriously menaced.

The Tillamooks and Pitmeley & Ritchie's squads had a tough argument, the former getting the decision by two runs. The score was 12-10. Lemon Gonnasons gave the league-leading Normals a hard run for their money but lost out by a score of 20 to 14. This win about clinches the first half of the "C" section schedule for the students.

Kennel Club Will Hold Open Air Dog Show in Two Weeks

The Victoria City Kennel Club will hold another parlor dog show on Saturday, June 26. This show will be an open air affair. It will be held in the grounds of Mrs. R. V. C. Besonnet's home, 1467 Esquimalt Road.

Dog-lovers in the city will find this a good opportunity to show off their favorite canines. No entry forms will be necessary, all dogs being assigned to their stalls upon their arrival at the grounds. No entry fee will be charged for exhibitors. J. W. Creighton, well known in the local dog circles, will act as judge of the show.

HIGH-POWERED ENTERTAINMENT IS DOMINION FARE

If you would have your hair curled into a permanent wave, if you want to know off all your fingernails, if you want palpitation of the heart, hysteria, general convulsions and many high nervous laughs, go to the Dominion Theatre this week and see the Roland West screen production of "The Bat."

The advice should be taken only by seekers for real high-powered entertainment, who are prepared to see what the tremendous resources of the motion picture can do to interpret the famous and perennial Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood stage success, which played as long as two years in one theatre with the limited staging of a legitimate show to give it atmosphere. Now in the film, all limits of a physical nature have been swept away, and the story romps along in four dimensions.

Right from the start things begin to happen—a skyscraper murder mystery, a bank robbery, then the intricate system of events at the Van Gorder mansion on Long Island. As in all genuine mystery plays, suspicion falls on one after another of all those in and about the premises, and one man's guess is a good as his wife's until the big expose. One is led on in such open-mouthed and trembling amazement that one hardly pauses to note the many dramatic and scenic devices which give the story its zest. But the speed and plausibility of incidents are so disarming that the result is an evening of complete enjoyment.

Nothing much dare be said about the plot, for fear of revealing that which is better enjoyed in the theatre. You will miss undoubtedly the most notable mystery melodrama of the screen if you do not see "The Bat." Not only will it give you thrills and a thrill, but it will provide dinner table conversation for weeks trying to account for all that happened, in light of the denouement.

FRITZI BRUNETTE BACK IN FILMS FROM VAUDEVILLE

Fritzi Brunette, who deserted the screen for a two-year vaudeville tour, has returned to the movies in "The Pace That Thrills," his week's First National feature at the Playhouse Theatre. Fritzi is telling a good story on herself to the effect that she forgot every word of her vaudeville skit the first performance she appeared in.

"It was really a terrifying experience," says Fritzi. "I hated to do it, but had to ask the manager to ring down the curtain. Stage-fright, I guess."

PONJOLA ROLE IS RECALLED BY ANNA IN NEWEST PICTURE

Anna Q. Nilsson returns to the delightful boyish garb of "Ponjola" in "Miss Nobody," which enjoyed a most distinguished premiere last night at the Capitol Theatre here.

In "Miss Nobody," however, Miss Nilsson is not the polished English gentleman of "Ponjola." She is a hobo.

Miss Nilsson is surrounded by an interesting coterie of featured players in this production, with Walter Pidgeon, a prepossessing newcomer, as leading man.

Mitchell Lewis, Clyde Cook and Arthur Stone are seen in hobo characterization. Also in the featured classification is Louise Fazenda, contributing the flapperish type of role in which she stands quite alone.

Notable among the remainder of a large cast are Anders Randolf, Claire duBois, Ted Prouty, Caroline

An exciting episode in the super-production "The Bat," which will show this week as a picture at the Dominion

Rankin, George Nichols and Oleta Otis.

"Miss Nobody" is an adaptation of the celebrated Tiffany Wells novel, "Sheba," which achieved enormous popularity in book and serial form. Lambert Hillier's excellent direction is apparent throughout "Miss Nobody." Wild Gunning excels in editorial guidance. It is a First National release.

"NIGHTIE NIGHT" AT THE COLISEUM, IS SNAPPY SHOW

"Nightie Night" is this week's bill at the Coliseum and a large audience last night welcomed one of the snappiest shows yet put on by Ed. Redmond at the Government Street theatre. The crowd was soon in happy mood following with enthusiasm a farce that is a pleasant combination of brilliance and frivolity. The hilarious play starts with a prologue which is set in a Pullman car of an east bound train, in which a young wife is escaping from a husband she has just married. Three clever acts follow, the quick action of the play being maintained until the final and surprising climax. It is an extraordinary good show, put on with polish, full of snap and action, is original in plot and bright and entertaining in dialogue.

STAR WHO ROSE FROM OBSCURITY NOW AIDS OTHERS

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," cried the sage bard of Avon. Sweet, indeed, when, as in the case of lovely Mabel Ballin, leading feminine player in "Beauty and the Bad Man," the Frank E. Woods Special Production, now playing at the Columbia Theatre, they teach charity and kindness.

Miss Ballin, the wife of Hugo Ballin, famous producer-director, found the road to fame and fortune studded with almost insurmountable barriers. An orphan from early childhood, she spent her girlhood with the Salvation Army—recruiting converts on street corners, aided by her silvery voice and appealing spiritual face, making her own clothes, and as a result, in her early teens, she assumed the tedious duties of a dressmaker's apprentice.

After a taste of this sort of work, a fairy godmother, in the form of a wealthy patron, recognized Mabel's artistic and creative talents and paid for a course in industrial art for the struggling little seamstress.

But now that she is financially comfortable, Miss Ballin, has by no means forgotten the privations and arduous struggles that constituted her girlhood. Proof of this is evidenced by the fact that the popular little star has several times helped

WOODWARD ASKS CITY TO GRANT SPECIAL TERMS

Invites John Dean to Put Over $1,000,000 Deal For Woolen Mill

Free Site, Free Water For Five Years and Low Rate Taxes Basis of Plan

An open invitation to John Dean, said by Alderman E. S. Woodward to be the sponsor of a circular showing how Victoria could have a $1,000,000 woolen mill in return for trifling concessions, to proceed with negotiations to bring about this achievement is contemplated in a notice of motion filed by that member of the City Council at the regular session last night.

Alderman Woodward's motion, which will be up for discussion next Monday, read in part as follows:

"Resolved that Mr. John Dean be informed that in the opinion of this council it is desirable that such a woolen mill be secured on the conditions indicated; be it therefore resolved that Mr. John Dean be informed that this council is prepared to recommend to the mayor the adoption of a by-law granting the following concessions, namely:

1—A free water frontage site.

2—Free water for five years.

3—Fixed taxation at 25 mills on 75% of the assessed value.

"As soon as Mr. Dean shall furnish the names of the experienced woolen mill men who will invest the $900,000 mentioned in the circular, and the names of the ratepayers who will subscribe $100,000 in the stock of the enterprise."

The circular referred to by Alderman Woodward was pinned to the back of the resolution and was dated April 24, 1924. On the reverse side of the circular was a synopsis of facts and figures in regard to the city manager form of government.

At the session of the council, William Marchant, Alderman Woodward, the council decided to table the matter, and the document as a notice of motion to be spoken to again next Monday.

The concessions mentioned in the Woodward motion were taken, explained its author, verbatim from the circular which has been distributed in the city.

COUNCIL SPLITS ON QUESTION OF BRITISH BIRTH

Alderman Woodward Puts a Poser and Six Aldermen Join in Issue

Nationality of a City Manager, if Selected, Leads Council Into Hot Discussion

Alderman E. S. Woodward scored a two-sided victory over his opponents after a warm discussion at the City Council chamber last night. The scene of the battle was on ground which seemed innocent enough at the outset. Alderman Woodward had moved that in all future appointments made by the city only British subjects should be considered as eligible.

DEFEATED

After protracted discussion, however, the council's resolution was defeated by a six to five vote of the council. Aldermen Dewar, Mara, Holmes, Clearhue, Brown and Mayor Pendray, carrying the day against Aldermen Marchant, Harvey, Cullin, Woodward and Shanks. Every member of the council who voted against the resolution was careful to make plain that he favored the employment of British subjects, Victorians where possible, but each asked leave to select an outside man if one of the calibre and qualifications desired could not be found ready to hand within the confines of the British Empire.

Though the word was not once mentioned in this connection it was an open secret that Alderman Woodward's defeated motion was addressed to the limitation of an appointment of a city manager. Only seven city managers, and no others, were mentioned in the motion.

Alderman J. L. Mara pointed to the action of a great English railway which in war days engaged a United States citizen for its highest and most responsible technical position.

It was unfair to the adherents of the city manager plan to tie their hands in this manner, said Mayor Pendray.

"POLITICAL RESOLUTION"

It was a "good political resolution," judged Alderman J. B. Clearhue, but he thought an unfair limitation which might act against the best interests of the city.

Alderman P. R. Brown thought it would be setting a "dangerous" limitation on the city in the choice of its officials. Finally on the vote Aldermen Marchant, Harvey, Cullin and Shanks stood behind the mover of the resolution which was declared to have lost. Alderman Woodward had the last word on the discussion. He asked that the vote be recorded.

TO SHIP AEROPLANES

Seward, Alaska, June 15—Captain George H. Wilkins, who arrived here Saturday from Fairbanks, Alaska, on route to the United States, left Seward to return to Fairbanks, where he announced he would crate the two aeroplanes he had used in unsuccessful attempts to find and chart land in the wastes north of Alaska. The explorer said he would return here within two weeks to board a steamship for Seattle.

COUNCIL RECEIVES VALUABLE PROPOSAL AS TO LEASEHOLDS

Might Retain Cream of Business Property and Pay Off Civic Debt

Mayor Pendray Suggests Ten Per Cent Addition to All City Land Prices

After several new ideas were advanced the City Council last night tabled discussion on the policy to be adopted by its lands department for the disposal of reverted properties, and referred further consideration of the question to the lands committee itself for report.

Mayor J. C. Pendray proposed a ten per cent blanket increase in the price of all land listed for sale on the city's books, and the adoption of a policy of steady refusal to accept prices below those listed.

LONG-TERM LEASES

Alderman H. C. Holmes engaged the attention of the council by suggesting consideration of a plan whereby valuable property in the downtown area would not be sold by the city freehold but only on leasehold for long term leases. This, he said, would ensure the city's position in regard to the future and would lead to the creation of a reserve of growing value and importance as the years went on. Such a plan would in time assume proportions which would lead to the reduction or extinction of the corporation debt. For most purposes in a commercial way leasehold was sufficient to satisfy buyers who would be satisfied with long term possession of the property in place of outright freehold title, he believed.

UNDERSELL CITY

Alderman H. A. C. Dewar touched on a point that was later reaffirmed by many present, stating that the city's chief opposition lay in the fact that private owners were willing and did underbid the city on every possible occasion with prices that fell away below that asked by the city for adjacent properties. Alderman Dewar mentioned the re-established value of city real property with a report he made to the council as chairman of the lands committee.

FULL LIST PRICES

The report showed six sales had been negotiated by the city-lands department in the first day of this week, and on Saturday last, making seven in all for ratification by the council. In all cases except one the city had obtained the full list price for the land, or a shade better. The single exception was in a locality where the city's price was $2,200 and adjoining property, privately owned, was held at $1,700, the city's sale going through at $2,000 even. The sales will bring the city $6,625 to city coffers when the agreements are completed, and return seven properties to the tax paying roster.

Thomas Pitmeley Limited, Alfred Carmichael, the Western Realty Company Limited, and Frank W. E. Gregory are the buyers who will assume the properties in question. Outside of residential parcels of the land involved the sales include two cloths in deals, one the northwest corner of Princess Avenue and Quadra Street, where two lots change hands for $2,400 and the westerly half of a lot on the north side of Yates Street, between Vancouver and Cook Streets, for $2,000. Fort Street between Cook and Ormond; Topaz Avenue, and Wellington Street were featured in the other sales.

FAVOR INCREASE

Many of the council members expressed themselves in favor of an appreciable advance in city realty prices, but the action taken was a reference of the question to the city lands committee for further study and report. Alderman E. S. Woodward supported Alderman Holmes on the leasehold suggestion and this phase of the problem will be taken up by the lands committee also in its report.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Jubilee Hospital to Open New X-Ray Department

Public Invited to Inspect Fine Radiological Equipment To-morrow Afternoon; Old Operating Room Converted Into Modern Department

For Treatment of Deeper-Seated Troubles

With the formal opening of the new radiological department on Wednesday, June 16, the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital will make another big step on the way to becoming one of the finest equipped hospitals of its size in Canada, and certainly the best on the Pacific Coast. The public is invited to inspect the new department on Wednesday between the hours of 3 to 5 p.m. when it will have the opportunity of judging for itself the careful thought which has been put into this latest acquisition to the institution's equipment for the relief of suffering humanity.

FORMER OPERATING SUITE

To those who are interested in the economic side of the hospital's career, it will be interesting to learn that the new department is in the old section of the hospital and represents the metamorphosis of the former operating ward, which is now situated in the new wing. The erstwhile operating theatre and the adjoining rooms have been converted into a radiology department designed to give the maximum of service with the minimum of effort.

Under the direction of Dr. W. M. Carr, the hospital radiologist, the various rooms and their equipment have been arranged to facilitate the most expeditious handling of the cases, thus tending to the greater comfort of the patient and increased efficiency in the department. It is interesting to note that the extensive alterations have been carried out without any hindrance to the usual work of the department.

The various divisions of radiology dealt with in the new department are as follows—1. Diagnostic X-Ray examination; 2. X-Ray Therapy, both superficial and deep; 3. Radium Therapy; 4. Physio-therapy; 5. Light Therapy.

In addition to the rooms devoted to these phases of radiological examination and treatment, the department contains an attractive waiting room, a viewing and filing room and an office. In the viewing room is an illuminator of the newest and best design. Constructed in sections, it is capable of expansion on the principle of the Globe-Wernicke bookcase, so that additional sections may be secured and added as the need arises.

The radiographic section is interesting, with its sound-proof transformer, so constructed as to mitigate disturbance of the patient by its noise. The room devoted to superficial treatments and examinations and that in which is established the machine for examinations of deep-seated troubles, such as ailments of the chest, digestive tracts, and fractures, are connected by a smaller compartment in which is situated the control, so that the operator can work the X-Ray machine without losing sight of the patient, a great advantage to both patient and radiographer.

FLUOROSCOPIC APPARATUS

The fluoroscopic apparatus is of the very latest design, with stabilized control permitting easy handling. This has a room to itself and here patients suffering from chest and abdominal complaints are treated.

NAUSEA MINIMIZED
The former operating room has been divided into four compartments, each devoted to one of the divisions of radiology. One is given over to diathermy, or the application of concentrated heat to any part of the body. Then there is the room devoted to ultra-violet ray treatments, one for radiant heat treatments, and one for radium therapy, all equipped with the latest devices known to science. A separate room houses the powerful transformer of 250,000 voltage.

Of special interest is the instrument which is used in connection with deep X-Ray therapy. This machine, as with the other equipment in the radiology department, has been perfected so as to reduce to a minimum the nauseating effect of X-Ray treatments upon the patient.

Fluoroscope With Central Control

For Superficial Examinations

ing of the complete darkening of the room for developing purposes.

Throughout the new department there is an abundance of windows permitting the maximum of sunshine and fresh air, and in the former operating room the overhead windows have been treated to ensure the entry of sunlight without glare. The glistening white paint employed everywhere adds to the air of cheeriness, and in the wide corridor grow-whether the result is positive or negative. Needless to say the latter finding is often a source of great joy to all concerned, especially in this day of the dawn of preventive medicine. For preventive medicine, the goal of the profession, is in its infancy. Ere long it will become the practice, particularly in larger communities, to have medical examinations at varying intervals—depending on the age and health of the individual—for the purpose of ruling out factors detrimental to perfect health or of watching the progress of any pre-existing disease. When the general health of the individual seems good, preventive examinations are suggested as follows—during the first twenty years of life annually, during the second twenty years of life bi-annually, and thereafter annually.

X-RAY BURNS RARE
Nowadays various lesions both on the surface of and within the body are treated successfully by application of X-Rays. A number of diseases of the skin which show little or no response to other methods, heal under this form of treatment.

One frequently hears reference to X-Ray burns. These are practically unknown to-day, because this work is now rarely undertaken by those who do not understand it.

X-Ray treatment when applied to suitable cases is surprisingly efficient and in these cases is equalled only by radium. The treatment, particularly in slowly growing, intractable lesions of the skin is a strikingly efficient substance, but one fact must be kept in mind constantly in these cases and that is "diagnose and treat early."

EARLY DIAGNOSIS IMPORTANT

The necessity for early diagnosis and treatment of superficial growths by X-Ray and radium is just as important as early diagnosis and treatment of growths of stomach and bowel by surgery. In making this point repetition is justified and it is again stated that medical examinations at definite intervals are essential to the carrying out of preventive measures in order to insure the maximum of longevity and usefulness for the individual.

Radium is a substance for which vast hopes have been held and great claims made as a cure for disease. The claims were based upon an insufficient number of successfully treated cases and the ever present hope of discovery of some substance in the vegetable or mineral kingdoms which will counteract all human ills. Radium has met the fate of all elixirs of life, but in the process has emerged with an established ability to eliminate some otherwise fatal conditions. In other words, radium therapy has become so established that suitable cases only are treated and the result to be expected foretold with a definite degree of accuracy.

ELECTRO AND LIGHT THERAPY

The practice of electro-therapy has suffered some years of bad repute owing to its indiscriminate use in all types of disease, but latterly this method also has been placed upon a satisfactory basis by confining its application to cases in which one can reasonably expect benefit. Last but by no means least of the methods for the relief of disease, available in this department, comes Light Therapy, also known by the names Quartz Light and Ultra Violet radiation. The beneficial rays are those situated immediately beyond the violet end of the visible sun spectrum. In certain classifications of disease, they achieve excellent results. For example enlarged glands of the neck, burns, tuberculous peritonitis, carbuncles, mixed infections in the chest, multiple joint, lesions and osteoarthritis if treated early.

Brentwood

Special to The Times

Brentwood, June 15.—An enjoyable evening was spent by the attending military five hundred given by the West Saanich Institute on Saturday night. There were seven tables of players and Miss Phyllis Maher, Mr. J. Ombry, Mr. P. Verrier and Mr. Overton at Fort No. 6, with twenty-five discs, were winners of the first prize. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Overton, Mr. S. Fox, Mr. Williamson and B. Fox. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Haddon, Mrs. Atkins and Miss Maher, and a social hour was spent after the game.

Mrs. J. Barnes of Wastnet, and Dr. Corbet of Bon Accord, Alberta, are visitors at the home of Mr. Frank Renouf, Moodyville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thorne of Victoria are spending a holiday at their summer cottage, which has just been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, who have been spending a fortnight at Tod Inlet in their launch, have returned home to Salt Spring Island.

Mrs. Beach of Cowichan Lake has returned to her home after a holiday spent at the home of her brother, J. E. Sladen, Tod Inlet Road.

Sooke

Special to The Times

Sooke, June 15.—On Saturday the 12th there was a dance and social at the Sooke Hall under the auspices of the Conservative Association. Preceding these, the Hon. R. H. Pooley, M.P., addressed the audience. Mr. John Murray, acting chairman during the absence of Capt. J. I. French, president of the association, presented Mrs. Pooley with a bouquet of flowers, sent by Mrs. White, one of the oldest residents in the district.

The hall was effectively decorated with beautiful flowers and wreaths by Mrs. Philip Snape, Mrs. A. F. Ray, Mrs. King and Miss Snape. The ladies of the district served refreshments. The evening was brought to a close with playing of the National Anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack and family are visiting in Sooke.

Mrs. Haller has gone to live in Victoria.

Mr. Gastone Usigli, who lately arrived from Italy, has been a guest of Captain and Mrs. Trois, and has now left Sassenos for San Francisco, where he will continue his musical career.

REPORT SHOWS CITY FINANCES IN FINE SHAPE

Auditors and City Comptroller Point to Favorable Advances Made

Percentage of Tax Collection Rises, and Debt Recedes

Two reports of interest were laid before the City Council in session last night, one from Messrs. Ismay, Boiston, Holden & Company, and the other from D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller. Both showed the city's finances to be in excellent shape, with steady advances made over preceding years.

The auditors reported a surplus of $32,872 in the general purpose sinking fund as at December 31, 1925, compared with $28,500 for this purpose in the year previous. The cash balance on hand at the end of 1925 had been $248,681, of which total $150,352 came from the lands department, and $140,000 from the general account. The shortage in local improvement sinking funds had been reduced from $675,241 to $64,722, largely due to the refunding, it was stated. Out of a considerable total of agreements of sale only $26,186 had proved uncollectable and agreements to this sum had been written off.

The position of affairs in regard to the fifteen-year consolidated arrears is already known by you" was the only reference made in the report of the auditors to the situation recently presented to the council in that regard.

In his report the City Comptroller drew attention to the fact that $475,223 worth of debentures had been met by the city last year, reducing the debt from $17,681,807 to $17,206,583. Only four local improvement sinking fund debentures are outstanding now.

Extension security debentures to the extent of $800,000 had been issued during the year, the city obtaining a record price for its securities, to repay the ten-year local improvement debentures maturing during the year. This completes the city's refunding programme, stated Mr. Macdonald in his report.

In closing the city comptroller drew the council's attention to the fact that collections last year amounted to 86.2 per cent. of the tax levy as compared with 84.02 per cent. in the preceding year. Properties added to the tax roll again added reverenters by an assessed value of $299,320, it was shown.

LUXTON

Special to The Times

Luxton and Happy Valley, June 15.—What promises for an unusually attractive entertainment will take place in the Luxton Hall on Friday, June 18, at 8.30 p.m., when A. T. Welsh will present the Junior A.C.F. minstrel players, under the auspices of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute. The first part of the programme to be presented consists of a play with two acts, entitled "The King of the Cannibal Islands" while the second part contains such attractions as toe dances, Spanish dance, stop dance, specialty dances and a darky dance sketch. Those taking part include the Misses Toyer, Johns, Hay, Welsh, Cunningham, and Mrs. Haddon. Mr. Boyd, Miss Parson will be the accompanist, and Tom Sarman's four-piece orchestra will play for dancing from 10 to 12. Refreshments will be served by the ladies of the Institute.

The monthly meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Branch of the W.A. was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Helmsley, when there was a very good attendance of members. Welcoming visitors were the Rev. and Mrs. H. Pearson. After usual business was transacted, Mr. Pearson gave a most interesting talk on the work and origin of the Auxiliary, which was much appreciated by the members. The grateful thanks of the members were expressed to David Spencer, Ltd. for their kindness in allowing them to hold a home cooking stall at the basement of the store recently. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Page of Luxton. Tea was served by the hostesses for the afternoon.

The Luxton and Happy Valley annual flower show will be held in the Luxton Hall, July 6, a splendid prize list has been arranged which offers a wide scope for exhibitors. It contains nine divisions of which two are special divisions for children. In addition to the classes for plants and flowers there are classes for competition in home cooking and preserving, poultry products, women's work, etc. Also there is a division for competition in small fruits and garden products.

STORM LOSSES IN ONTARIO

London, Ont., June 15.—The electrical storm which swept over Western Ontario late yesterday, accompanied by heavy rains, caused some trouble to long distances telegraph wires West of here.

Sarnia reported flooded streets and cellars, in the heaviest storm experienced in years. At Chatham, it fell for half an hour. Grain and hay in the Woodstock district were flattened by the rain.

Rural Credit Bill Is Before Senate

Ottawa, June 15 (Canadian Press)—The rural credit bill was discussed by the banking and commerce committee of the Senate last night. No clauses were asked and no amendments were made. Senator Calder, however, suggested a change should be made in the bill, as a precedent drafted permitting the repayment of loans at any time, "subject to such revisions as may be prescribed by the board not inconsistent with the provisions of the interest act."

The measure in its present form provides for a system of long-term mortgage credits and its repayment after a loan has been outstanding for five years.
